

Report on Anti-Ragging Initiatives for the Academic Session 2025–26

Sushant University

In compliance with the UGC Advisory dated 22 July 2025 and as part of the observance of Anti-Ragging Day (12 August 2025) and Anti-Ragging Week (12–18 August 2025), the institution has undertaken a series of activities to create awareness and ensure a safe and inclusive campus environment.

The following initiatives were successfully carried out during the 2025–26 academic session:

1. Display of Anti-Ragging Posters

- Posters downloaded from the UGC website were prominently displayed on school notice boards.
- Names and contact numbers of Anti-Ragging Committee members for the 2025–26 session were displayed alongside.

2. Formation of Anti-Ragging Squads

- Anti-Ragging Squads were constituted by the stipulated date of 15 July 2025, as per the shared SOP.

3. Surprise Checks

- Surprise inspections were periodically conducted across schools to monitor compliance.

4. Orientation with First-Year Students

- Dedicated interaction sessions were conducted during orientation programs to familiarize first-year students with anti-ragging mechanisms, committees, and their functions.
- UGC-prescribed video links were screened during these sessions.

5. Activities and Awareness Campaigns

- Awareness drives were conducted through poster-making, slogan writing, essay competitions, expert talks, skit performances by senior students, and Nukkad Nataks.
- All new entrants participated in a pledge ceremony reaffirming their commitment against ragging.

6. Documentation of Affidavits

- Anti-ragging affidavits were collected and maintained on record for all new admissions.

7. Feedback and Reporting

- Feedback and photographic evidence of the awareness activities were compiled and shared with the Registrar's Office.
- The Registrar's Office actively monitored compliance across all schools and departments.

8. NAAC Documentation

- The NAAC SU team compiled the data and evidence of activities for institutional records.

9. Printing and Distribution of Posters

- Ten sets of anti-ragging posters were printed and distributed across the campus.

These measures were implemented in strict adherence to UGC guidelines, contributing to sensitization and awareness among students about the menace of ragging.

Pictures of Activities Conducted At University for Anti-ragging Awareness:

1. Nukkad natak and Oath Taking ceremony:

The School of Business organized a Poster Making Competition on the theme “Anti-Ragging” for first-year students of BBA, B.Com, and MBA. The event was part of the institute’s awareness initiatives to create a safe, inclusive, and respectful environment for all students.

The objective of the competition was to sensitise young learners about the harmful effects of ragging and encourage them to spread the message of discipline, dignity, and mutual respect on campus. By engaging students in a creative activity, the School of Business aimed to combine learning with social responsibility.

Students enthusiastically participated in the event and expressed their ideas through posters on topics such as “Say No to Ragging, Say Yes to Friendship.” Each poster was judged on the basis of creativity, clarity of message, social relevance, and teamwork. The competition reflected the students’ commitment to building a positive and respectful learning environment. Their posters carried powerful slogans, drawings, and symbolic representations, emphasizing the importance of a ragging-free campus.

The event successfully achieved its purpose of promoting awareness about anti-ragging measures and strengthening the culture of respect and empathy within the institution. The School of Business plans to continue such initiatives every year to ensure that students remain conscious of their responsibility in maintaining a safe and welcoming campus.

Photographs Showing Some Glimpses of NUKKAD Natak

2. Poster Making Competition:

The School of Business organized a Poster Making Competition on the theme “Anti-Ragging” for first-year BBA, B.Com, and MBA students as part of its awareness initiatives. The activity aimed to sensitize students about the harmful effects of ragging and promote values of respect, dignity, and friendship on campus.

Students enthusiastically participated, creating posters with powerful messages and creative expressions such as “Say No to Ragging, Say Yes to Friendship.” The event successfully promoted awareness, strengthened the culture of empathy, and reaffirmed the institution’s commitment to a safe and inclusive campus.

Sushant University soaring high

School of Business

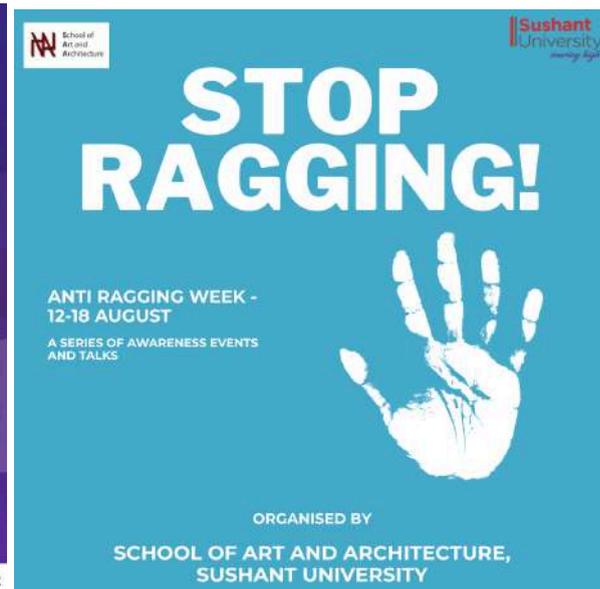

School of Business Presenting
Poster-Making Competition

📅 14th August, 2025 ⌚ 10:00 am Onwards
Faculty Coordinator: Dr. Deepti Sehrawat

Sushant University, Gurugram | www.sushantuniversity.edu.in | 1800 270 5520

3. Antiragging Activity Posters by Other Schools:

4. Open talks with all University Students

5. Within Classroom and Studio Awareness Sessions by SET and SAA:

6. Display of Antiragging Posters at Notice Boards :

