About the FDP

"Ethics and Integrity in Management" emphasizes the importance of ethical principles and ensuring honesty, transparency, and fairness in decision-making processes. It fosters trust, accountability, and sustainability within organizations, guiding leaders to make ethical choices that benefit stakeholders and society, while promoting a culture of integrity and responsible management practices.

This International Faculty Development Program (FDP) is a specialized program aimed at enhancing the knowledge and skills of faculty members, researchers, and professionals in the field of management. The primary focus is on ethical principles and integrity in management practices, which are crucial for fostering sustainable and responsible business practices.

It presents an opportunity for the participants to deepen their understanding of ethical principles, integrate integrity into their professional roles, and contribute to creating a culture of trust and responsibility within their organizations and beyond.

FDP Objectives:

- To provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of ethical dimensions and frameworks applicable in management.
- To emphasize the importance of integrity in leadership and decision-making processes.
- To equip participants with tools and strategies for identifying and resolving ethical dilemmas in business.
- To offer insights into how ethical practices and integrity are perceived and implemented across different cultural and geographical contexts.
- To assist faculty members in integrating ethics and integrity into their teaching curriculum effectively.

FDP Highlights

- Eminent international speakers delivering insightful sessions.
- No registration fee for participants, making it accessible to all.
- Conducted entirely online via MS Teams for convenience.
