Inside Leglytical

“Imagination is the beginning of creation. You imagine what you desire, you will what you imagine, and at last, you create what you will”

-GEORGE BERNARD SHAW

School of Law, Sushant University is an institution of eminence with outstanding credentials committed to the cause of supremacy in legal education. “Leglytical”, a quarterly e-newsletter of the School of Law delineates the bundles of creativity of our entire legal clan as we believe in the proverb, “Knowledge comes from learning, Wisdom comes from living”. The primary purpose of the e-magazine is to foster a rich interchange of ideas and information about legal education and related matters and to promote continuous academic research and dialogue among the legal community. For some writers, the only way presumptuous is to put pen to paper, trying to hypothesize and document what it traces and how to continue living in a non-living manner as countries are very frequently under lockdown and regular life seems to have ground to a halt. But life cannot be stopped, creativity cannot be motionless. The pledge to cater to the welfare of students enables Sushant University, School of Law to unlock the key to success by showcasing the talent of our legal fraternity. We, the Leglytical team, feel honored to share the series of artistry, talent, and commendable recognition of our School of Law, Sushant University. The team believes in progress and prosperity hence enable all, through “Leglytical” to proceed and not to stop.

“Never be afraid to try something new, because life gets boring when you stay within the limits of what you have already done.”

— Jaya Maheshwari

I am extremely proud and happy to bring forth the 3rd issue of “Leglytical- A Treasure of School of Law”, the quarterly newsletter publication of School of Law, Sushant University. The journey to the growth never stops and so is the process of building the legal acumen at School of Law. There has been prevailing uncertainty due to the covid situation, but the SOL team geared up all together to accept it as a challenge and showcase their robust foundation of driving through difficult times. Where the circumstances were tough, the entire team became more innovative and converted these challenges into opportunities to produce remarkable results. We, at School of Law follows the innate pedagogy that imbibes the 360 degree skills to successfully place the students in their professional world. The law students of today are set to become the NEXGEN lawyers well-equipped with technology, knowledge, skills, ethics and competence. The innovative approach at the school has built the reputation in a short duration and has destined to excel in the field of legal education to newer heights. I congratulate my editorial team for their relentless dedication to engrain the achievements, accomplishments and contributions of the students, faculty and the entire team members in this splendid compilation. This series of publication is evidence of the hard work, dedication and admiration of all the members of School of Law, Sushant University. I wish my team all the very best in all the endeavours they undertake!

Panel Discussion on Mindful Management of Money

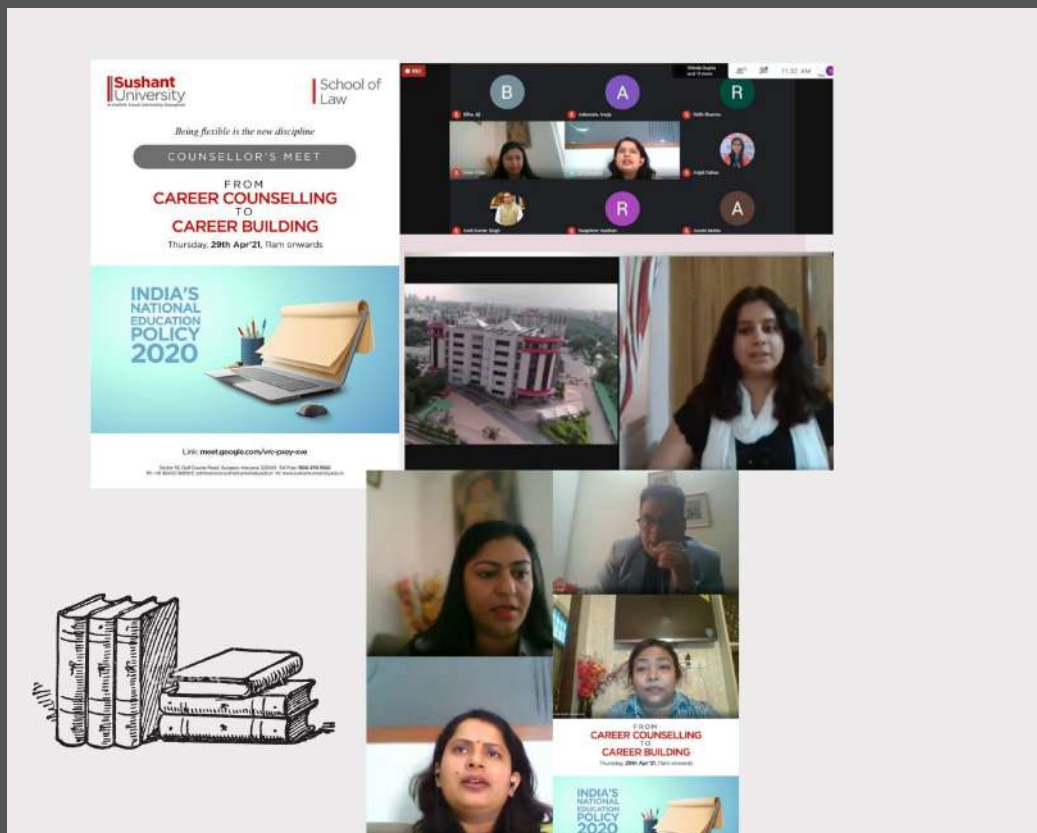

School of Law, Sushant University has organized Panel Discussion on Mindful Management of Money on 28th April, 2021. Demystifying the entire gamut of MONEY is no simple task. Money as the saying goes makes the world go around! It is money that acts as a critical-cog-in-the-modern economy. Mindful Management of Money is one of the very critical components which is often an oversight in this overtly consumeristic world. It is in the aforementioned context that the School of Law, Sushant University invited two very distinguished panellists to discuss on the ‘MINDFUL MANAGEMENT OF MONEY and to ruminate on the criticality of this issue. Distinguished Panelists Prof. (Dr.) Pankaj Gupta, a Global Academic Leader currently, Professor JGLS and Dean OCS at O.P. Jindal Global University, an Institution of Eminence. Dr. Gupta deliberated on the intricacies of money management and more specifically he underlined the importance of money which as per him should not become ‘master’ of human beings. Miss Sneha is an AVP – Key Accounts & Corporate Financial Wellbeing, at IMMPL. Miss Sneha Jaggar spoke about ‘Financial Planning’ meticulously and showcased the various dimensions of financial planning and unknotted various facets which are intertwined with financial planning. The entire session was skilfully moderated by Prof. Ashutosh Raj Anand Assistant Professor, School of Law, Sushant University. The moderator prodded them with couple of questions which were delightfully discussed at length by them.

The collage features a promotional poster for the 'Panel Discussion on Mindful Management of Money' held on Wednesday, 28 Apr '21, from 11am to 12pm. The poster lists the speakers: Prof. (Dr.) Pankaj Gupta, Miss Sneha Jaggar, and the moderator, Prof. Ashutosh Raj Anand. It also mentions the event was organized by the School of Law, Sushant University. Below the poster is a screenshot of a Zoom meeting in progress, showing several participants in a grid view. To the right of the Zoom screenshot is a screenshot of a presentation slide titled 'Financial Planning Pyramid', which displays a pyramid diagram with five levels. At the bottom left of the collage is a small black and white illustration of a stack of books.

Role of the WTO in International Trade and the Covid-19 Outbreak: Tackling the Resurgence of Protectionism in the Global Supply of Public Health Goods

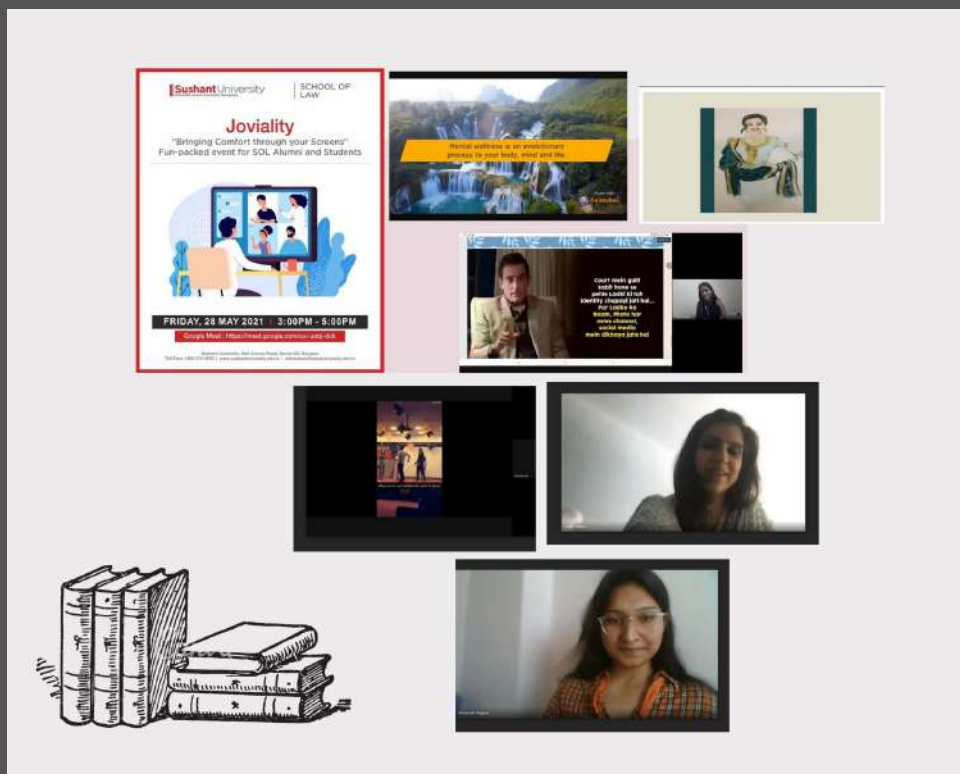

School of Law, Sushant University has organized a webinar “Role of the WTO in International Trade and the Covid-19 Outbreak: Tackling the Resurgence of Protectionism in the Global Supply of Public Health Goods” on 14th May, 2021. The COVID-19 pandemic represents an unprecedented disruption to the global economy and world trade, as production and consumption, are scaled back across the globe. There is an urgent need for collective action to improve key aspects of our global health that can be realized only by addressing the global systemic and structural health inequities that impose significant social, economic, and inter-generational costs. The COVID-19 pandemic has triggered a major global public health crisis and underlines the need for global cooperation. It becomes imperative to understand the role played by WTO in these uncertain times. The lecture focused on the Role of WTO in COVID-19.

Joviality

“Give your stress wings and let it fly away.”

School of Law, Sushant University's Cultural Committee 'Darpan' under the valuable guidance of Prof. (Dr.) Anjali Sehrawat, Assistant Prof. of Law organised a stress-relieving virtual session of fun activities 'Joviality' on 28th May, 2021. With the ongoing global coronavirus pandemic leading to people being confined to their homes, borders being shut and acute economic instability so in order to remove stress and anxiety, "Darpan" invited its Alumni and students for a relieving session of music, fun, quizzes, games, riddles, and more. The event started with two minutes of silence for the people who lost their lives during this pandemic followed by different cultural activities. The committee members conducted various fun activities that kept the audience engaged throughout the session. Segments such as memory words, riddles, story recitation, animation on mental health awareness and Bollywood quiz were extremely stress relieving and joyful. Further a series of student's creations were presented in the talent display round. The session concluded with warm conversations between the Alumni, students and Professors. The event was certainly a therapeutic and soothing one for everyone including the faculty during these difficult times.

Art Therapy Session

“Art is not always about pretty things. It’s about who we are, what happened to us, and how our lives are affected.”
- Elizabeth Broun

Poem Title: LONELINESS

Written by- Ridhi Sharma

Student of BALL.B 2nd Semester, Sushant University, Gurugram

*People think, I don't behave normally
But deep inside I know, I am lonely Gone is the happiness that I wore My good days are now aside the shore
Certain choices I cannot decide
Some priorities I cannot hide
Don't blame if I talk abruptly Because deep inside I know, I am lonely
Happy moments are way too little But remember life is not meant to subtle
To regain my happiness
I have to leave behind my
loneliness
I have to leave behind my
loneliness
"Loneliness is not a state, it is a feeling".*

Poem Title: REIGN OF VIRUS (DAYS OF FEAR AND GRIEF)

Written by- Aryan Dhaiya

Student of BALL.B 2nd Semester, Sushant University, Gurugram

Another day of Disease and Grief
It didn't take long for the number of deaths in a day to start including people around us.
So dining table conversations converted into grief and no, there are no regular conversations happening now.
The disease is engulfing everything with itself
And I am scared, what if it comes to my home and I just stand in silent
Like a stuck clock.
Today I just feel like a scared kid
Too afraid to go out, to cross the road alone
I remember wanting to save the planet
And here I am, terrified of every little thing I told you, I am never going to be enough for good So please don't scare me anymore
For no hands will hold me tight now
You see, I am just a scared kid.
I turn my anxiety into jokes and text people to take care of themselves
Because, as I said, I am scared
I do not know if I am doing the right thing
But I want to tell them that I love them in every way possible
Maybe that is the only thing I know
Praying doesn't come easy to me anyway
So I remind myself that I will all be okay
That one day, the sun will shine, and there will be no black clouds.
It gets too hard to breathe when all that your ears hear is how full the crematory grounds are When all you hear is people not being able to attend the funerals of their loved ones
There is nothing in this poem
Just some reality, and my grief and grief of everyone who is going through this every day.
I don't know what tomorrow holds for me
But I will keep reminding myself
That this disease will leave the planet soon That someday I will not be scared to go out and that my country will rise again.

Title: MY WORTHWHILE COVID-19 STORY

Written by- Himanshi Raghav

Student of BALLB 2nd Semester, Sushant University, Gurugram

Being confined to our house without any social interactions with people is very tough. In my first University life due to Covid-19 pandemic I had got a very rare chance to meet with my faculty members and friends. Nothing compares with going to University and experiencing the full student life of interacting with friends and Professors. Eventually, when the lockdown began, my lifestyle became very aberrant as a result of which I gained a lot of weight and began to feel emotionally weak; there was no motivation in anyway. However, after a few days passed and the pandemic situation remained out of control, I came to realize that whether we have the privilege to go elsewhere or not we must be mentally willing to face any setback. This catastrophic scenario has improved my mental and physical health, and now I can proudly say that I am capable of dealing with life's challenges on my own. The only thing I never lost all through this adversity was hope, this was the only thing that kept me alive through these tough times and motivated me too. To keep myself engaged, I began working out, assisting my mother with domestic chores, educating my siblings, attending online seminars conducted by my University, spending time with my family, and keeping in touch with friends via social media. Overall, doing such routine actions has made my lifestyle more productive while keeping a consistent and a positive mindset. I'm grateful to my faculty members of Sushant University for providing me lots of exposures which helped me to stay motivated. After a lengthy period of agony, the pandemic situation has now been under control, and people are beginning to feel less reluctant and more safe, which is a delightful achievement and now I'm hoping that soon I will join my University physically.

Title: THE ROLLER COASTER PANDEMIC RIDE

Written by- Dakshita Sharma Katare

Student of BALLB 2nd Semester, Sushant University, Gurugram

The entire pandemic period has been a huge roller coaster ride..... It saw the ups and downs of emotions. The moment the lockdown was announced I was dismayed. Anxiety set in as the mind was completely overshadowed by the fear of death and disease, and the thoughts of uncertain future, for me, like many others of my age stood at a cliff with half-left past and blurred future, with no visible escape from the present. But gradually, I was accustomed to this life of uncertain times. Yet, this did not mean that I was at peace, for who can be happy inside a cage. Maybe the nature was punishing us humans for caging the lives of the innocent birds and animals at snatching the motherly love of free earth, sky and air from them. Boredom set in next, because the mind was too distracted to participate in anything. Everything felt lifeless and though the conviction of wasting once in a lifetime long holiday was there, yet the mind was too exhausted to do any constructive work. Anywhere and everywhere, the ears met with the news of infection and death. It felt that the Doom's Day was nearing. The only happy thing was that I was safe and with my family. The long awaited days to be at home with the dear ones was now achieved and the innocent desire to visualise the professional life of each individual was now possible. Before long, there was a good news dancing in front of eyes. Things were turning normal. With death rate decreased and recovery rate increased, life was now back on track, just the train was different. I could feel the change in my life as it was possible to visit the campus offline. Positivity could be felt all around. But again the lives of all were covered by dark clouds. The second wave of Corona Virus had come into picture, like a villain from video game, more prepared to defeat the hero. Lockdown came back, but this time I was mentally prepared. Yes, I do remorse on the fact that we humans by our carelessness have let Covid-19 spread, but still I can see a ray of hope, far near the horizon, that soon all our miseries would end, the losses we faced would be compensated and our lives will change for good. With all the optimism in my heart, I pledge to be strong and fight against not only this virus alone, but all the negativities at large.
