Description

On June 21, 2020, we celebrated International Yoga Day with an engaging online event that connected participants globally. The day featured a series of live yoga sessions led by experienced instructors, offering various styles suitable for all levels, from beginners to advanced practitioners.

In addition to yoga classes, the event included guided meditations and discussions on the mental and physical benefits of yoga, emphasizing its role in promoting holistic well-being. Special guest speakers shared insights on integrating yoga into daily life, enhancing resilience and mindfulness during the pandemic.

Interactive Q&A sessions allowed participants to ask questions and share their experiences, fostering a supportive community atmosphere. With participants logging in from diverse backgrounds, the event highlighted yoga's universal appeal and its capacity to unite people, even from afar. The positive energy and shared commitment to wellness made it a memorable and uplifting experience for all involved.

Description (min 250 to max 800 words)	Sushant University recently hosted an innovative Digital Rangoli Competition centred around the theme of Environmental Conservation. Held virtually, this event aimed to blend traditional Indian art with modern digital techniques, highlighting pressing environmental issues through vibrant and thought-provoking designs. The competition saw enthusiastic participation from students across various disciplines, each bringing their unique perspective to the theme. The digital format allowed participants to experiment with a wide range of colours, textures, and patterns, creating intricate and visually stunning rangolis that conveyed powerful messages about the need for environmental protection. Participants were encouraged to draw inspiration from various aspects of environmental conservation, including climate change, wildlife preservation, renewable energy, and sustainable living. The resulting artworks were a testament to the students' creativity and awareness, depicting scenes of lush forests, endangered animals, clean energy sources, and the stark contrasts between polluted and pristine environments. Judged by a panel of faculty members, the competition emphasized originality, artistic skill, and the effectiveness of the environmental message.

Description (min 250 to max 800 words)***

The year 2020 brought unprecedented challenges due to the global COVID-19 pandemic, reshaping how educational institutions conducted their activities. Despite these challenges, the School of Design at Sushant University adapted to the new normal with resilience and creativity. The Teachers' Day celebration, traditionally held with much fanfare on campus, was conducted virtually on Google Meet. This digital celebration turned out to be a unique and memorable event, demonstrating the unwavering spirit of the students and faculty.

Preparation and Virtual Ambiance

In the weeks leading up to Teachers' Day, students at the School of Design coordinated extensively online to prepare for the celebration. Virtual meetings, group chats, and collaborative platforms were abuzz with ideas and plans. The students were determined to honor their teachers in a manner befitting the occasion, even if it had to be through screens.

On the day of the event, the Google Meet link buzzed with excitement as students and faculty joined from their respective homes. The virtual background feature was utilized creatively, with many students designing custom backgrounds showcasing messages of gratitude, colorful decorations, and creative graphics that added a festive touch to the digital gathering. The ambiance, though virtual, was filled with warmth and enthusiasm.

The Event Kicks Off

The celebration began with a welcome address by the student coordinator, who set the tone for the event with an inspiring speech. The students took turns to share their screens, displaying a beautifully designed digital poster that read, "Happy Teachers' Day 2020 – Thank You for Lighting Our Path." The teachers, dressed in their best, were visibly touched by the efforts put in by their students.

Speeches and Tributes

Following the welcome address, the head of the School of Design delivered a speech that resonated deeply with everyone. She spoke about the resilience and adaptability of both teachers and students in the face of the pandemic. This was followed by heartfelt speeches from students who shared personal anecdotes and expressed their deep appreciation for their teachers. These speeches, interspersed with slideshows of memorable photos from previous years, were a poignant reminder of the strong bonds forged between students and faculty.

Cultural Performances

Despite the limitations of a virtual setting, the cultural performances were a highlight of the celebration. Students had pre-recorded various performances which were then shared during the event. The performances included traditional dance routines, musical performances, and even a short theatrical skit, all of which were edited to perfection to ensure smooth playback.

One particularly memorable performance was a dance medley that combined traditional Indian dance forms with contemporary moves, symbolizing the blend of tradition and modernity that defines the School of Design. The musical renditions, featuring students singing and playing instruments from their homes, were a testament to their dedication and creativity.

Felicitation and Acknowledgment

A significant part of the celebration was the virtual felicitation ceremony. Each teacher was presented with a digital certificate of appreciation, accompanied by personalized messages from students. These certificates were beautifully designed, reflecting the artistic talent of the students. The teachers were also sent e-gift cards as tokens of appreciation, ensuring that the celebration retained a personal touch despite the physical distance.

Reflection and Conclusion

The 2020 Teachers' Day celebration at the School of Design, Sushant University, was a remarkable example of how a community can come together and celebrate despite challenges. The event, held on Google Meet, was not just a celebration but a testament to the adaptability, creativity, and spirit of both the students and faculty.

The virtual format, while initially challenging, turned out to be a unique and enriching experience. It highlighted the importance of connection, gratitude, and community. The image of teachers and students, smiling and interacting through their screens, encapsulated the success of the day. It showed that even in times of crisis, the bonds between students and teachers remain strong and meaningful.

In conclusion, the 2020 Teachers' Day celebration at the School of Design, Sushant University, was a resounding success. It showcased the institution's commitment to fostering a supportive and creative learning environment, even in the face of adversity. The event was a perfect blend of innovation, appreciation, and joy, making it a memorable day for everyone involved.

Description -

https://youtu.be/toWe7FyzY\_M Absolutely new, unexposed and fresh though may the students of the first semester at the Vatel Hotel and Tourism Business School be, they are in no way short of the excitement, eagerness and they all host great enthusiasm which is so much sought after in the successful hoteliers of modern times.

There is a bit of hotelier in everybody – making the house look spic-and-span, extending a warm welcome and looking after the guests and bidding them farewell so that they look forward to visiting you again is what the hospitality trade is all about. Everybody does it in the best ways and means possible and the professional tinge given to such an activity is what hotel management is all about.

In order to prove the fact that there's a bit of housekeeper in everyone, the students were asked to, in whatever resources available to them, create a one-minute video within their own house in which they were shown tidying up their bedroom, making their wardrobes and books look neat and orderly and to dust the shelves and all visible equipment and furniture. All this was done by the students with great enthusiasm and with a smile on their face, thereby exhibiting delight to learn and to do better and better.

The video clips of the students were collated together and transformed into a master video which is now destined to be put up on the university website.

Ms Chandana Paul, who looks after housekeeping said – “This was an experiment from our side and it really worked well. This encourages us to give to these students more and more of such exciting, little projects”

The session on youth empowerment was conducted by Vatel Hotel & Tourism Business School. In which the Ms. Achla Bhardwaj was invited to conduct the session for our students on 25th September 2020. In this session she explained the main objective & meaning of Youth empowerment, which is a process where children and young people are encouraged to take charge of their lives. They do this by addressing their situation and then take action in order to improve their access to resources and transform their consciousness through their beliefs, values, and attitudes. Students enjoyed the session and the session was well appreciated by the students.

Description (min 250 to max 800 words)***

The First year students of Vatel Hotel and Tourism Business School got an exciting opportunity to interact with Ms. Sanjana Bhalla, Assistant Training Manager, Crowne Plaza, Gurugram on the topic of the various Food & Beverage Areas in the Crowne Plaza Property. She started off by talking about what is expected out of a F&B Professional with a focus on communication skills and body language. She mentioned this repeatedly that a person looking forward to succeeding in the field of F&B should not only have the skills of service but should also be comfortable in conversing with the guest and should be able to handle any type of situation arising in front of him/her. She talked about the various F&B outlets located in the hotel including their coffee shop, Japanese Themes Restaurant, Pool side setup, Bar etc. All this sounded really exciting to the student as even though they physically cannot visit the property

	during these testing times, they were able to gain needed knowledge. She also focused a lot on the in-room dining facilities which has seen a major growth due to the effect of the Covid. Ms. Sanjana as well as the students are looking forward to the good times in the near future when the students shall be able to visit the hotel in-person.

School of Business, Sushant University's Cultural Club "BeatMasters" organized an activity "Talent Hunt: Unleash Your Potential" on 20th November, 2020 @ 2:40 to 3:40 p.m. Activity was organized through online mode. Students participated enthusiastically and showcased variety of skills like Playing Piano, Guitar, Singing, Singing in Voice Modulation.

All participants participated very enthusiastically.

Event started with welcoming all participants in the online Google meet by the MC's of the event, Shaurya and Ritika.

The first performance was a song sang by Abhishek with Guitar and it was received so well, he left everyone grooving along with him. The second performance was Ashu Jain, who performed the stand-up performance on a very GenZ relatable topic.

It was followed by another song sang by Maheep Singh and left the audience spellbound with his mesmerized voice.

There were many other performances which were magical as students played guitar, danced, sang songs.

Overall the event let the students unleash their hidden talents and performed with their full potential.

The event was conceptualized and organized by Dr. Suman Dahiya.

Our planet is an amazing place, but it needs our help to thrive! That's why each year on April 22 more than a billion people celebrate Earth Day to protect the planet from things like pollution and deforestation. By taking part in activities like picking up litter and planting trees, we are making our world a happier, healthier place to live.

The School of Engineering and Technology celebrated Earth Day by hosting a National Level Poster Competition starting from 15th April 2021.

The competition has received good participation of students. The main aim was to increase SET Social media presence. The winner was announced on 22nd April on the Earth Day and given an Amazon voucher worth Rs. 500.
