Dear Dr. Alpana Jijja,

I would like to extend my thanks for organizing the Introduction to Cyber Security workshop on 11th January 2019. It was a wonderful opportunity to connect with the students and discuss the growing importance of cybersecurity in today's digital world. I hope the session provided the attendees with a clear understanding of the threats posed by cyber-crime and the need for strong security measures. It's always inspiring to see young minds so engaged in learning about this critical field.

Looking forward to future collaborations.

Warm regards,
 Rahul Tyagi

Dear Dr. Alpana Jijja,

Thank you for inviting Lucideus to collaborate on the Introduction to Cyber Security workshop scheduled for 11th January 2019. I am pleased to confirm that I will be delivering the keynote address, and I'm excited to engage with the students and discuss the pressing need for cybersecurity in today's digital landscape. Please let me know if there are specific areas you would like me to focus on, and I will tailor my session accordingly.

Looking forward to a great session.

Dear Rahul,

I hope this message finds you well.

I am writing to invite Lucideus to collaborate with Ansal University on an upcoming workshop titled "Introduction to Cyber Security," scheduled for 11th January 2019. The workshop aims to introduce B.Tech students to the threats of cyber-crime and the significance of cybersecurity measures in today's world.

We would be honored to have you lead the session as the keynote speaker. Please confirm your availability and participation at your earliest convenience.

Description (min 250 to max 800 words)***

School of Engineering and Technology at Ansal University in collaboration with Lucideus conducted a workshop on "Introduction to Cyber Security on 11th Jan 2019". The main aim of the workshop was to familiarize the students with threats of cyber-crime and the importance of Cyber Security. This workshop mainly focusses on creating comprehensive understanding in the field of Cyber Security. The Workshop opened with the general introduction by Prof. (Dr) Anamika Paul, Dean SET followed by keynote address on skype by Mr. Rahul Tyagi, VP & Co-Founder, Lucideus, As more nation-states become concerned about cyber risk it is utmost important to train our youth with the processes, technologies and practices designed in specific manner to protect networks, computers, programs and data from misuse due to attack, damage or unauthorized access. By 2020 there would be about 3.5 million job openings in the field of Cyber Security globally. The young minds who are stepping into this field today will have a definite say in shaping tomorrow. The workshop was concluded with a session by Dr. Sanjeev Sharma, Dean School of Health Sciences. He gave an overall insight of the industry. He encouraged students to introspect and realise their area of domain so that they can enhance their skills specific to their domain. This paradigm shift of technologies from border to more specific area will make them more employable. Adding to this Ms. Alpana Jijja from School of Engineering and Technology gave a deep insight on the latest Technologies- Artificial Neural Network and Deep Learning. Students inquisitiveness made the workshop lively and interesting.

A hand on workshop on Oritecture was organised by Oneistox with mentor Mr. Ankon Mitra on 17th, 18th and 19th January 2019. The workshop focussed on experimenting with Origami basics as well as advanced forms. Participants created forms with materials such as Paper, Wood, Plastic and Fabric. The success of the workshop lied on the multidisciplinary approach with designs ranging from a flat back shelter to jewelery design.

Mentor | Ankon Mitra, Design Director (Landscape), at Hexagramm Design Pvt. Ltd

Ankon Mitra an Architect by training and artist by temperament with keen interest in geometry and mathematics. He has intensive research in tessellating geometries folding processes in nature and origami in paper, Plastics and metals. Conducted scores of workshops in geometry and origami related to Fashion, Industrial design and Architecture.

	Key Points: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>  Introduction to Origami            Lecture and hands-on work to track the basics of Origami design.         </li> <li>  Folding Techniques            An intensive coursework involving the techniques that go behind origami.         </li> <li>  Explore Materiality            Learn to apply origami techniques to varied materials like Tyvek, wood, paper &amp; plastics.         </li> <li>  Fabrication Techniques            Be the first to learn an upcoming field of design, experiences &amp; explore Origami design in India.         </li> <li>  Final Portfolio            Your design output will evolve from a flat pack design to a chair design. You get to choose - what to build, and actually get all the assistance to help you make it.         </li> </ul>

Xebia ties-up with Ansal University; to develop futuristic curriculum for B.tech course

Published on May 1, 2019

New Delhi : Xebia Academy Global, the Education Business unit of Xebia has recently signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Ansal University, Gurgaon, to launch a B.Tech Computer Science Engineering programme specialization in DevOps for the academic session 2019-20. Xebia will undertake the designing of course curriculum, creating study modules containing high quality industry-specific content, and strengthening the faculty through building a team of competent educators. The company will also support with the placement of the graduating students. Recently, Xebia had also tied up with SRM University (Sonepat) and Quantum University (Roorkee) on the same lines.

With the focus of the B. Tech program on future-oriented field of DevOps, the course structure has been designed to address the talent gap by providing relevant knowledge and upskilling the students. The curriculum development, which comprises course materials, assignments, and training sessions, will be piloted under the specific guidelines and expertise of Xebia's DevOps practitioners.

Focusing on the changing demands of engineering and the unprecedented role of DevOps, Dr. Raj Singh, Vice Chancellor, Ansal University, Gurgaon, said "The role of the universities is to churn out the best of minds in all professional fields. We, at Ansal University, constantly strive to bring in courses that are relevant and futuristic. The present tie-up with Xebia is one such effort, where we want our student to be future ready and equip themselves with the latest technology with the support of people who are the best in disseminating this knowledge. Xebia with proven track record and hands-on experience in the field is the right choice and we are sure that our students will benefit from the association."

Ansal University Gurgaon
introduces cutting edge state of the art industry aligned programs in academic collaboration with Xebia

DevOps

DevOps is a culture which promotes collaboration between Development and Operations teams to deliver a complete product in the automated & systematic manner for a better end user. The word DevOps is a combination of development and operations.

DevOps ranked no. 1 job skill for job seekers to get their future jobs. The shortage of skilled DevOps professionals is making it inevitable.

By 2020, 70% of those who will be using DevOps to support the traditional IT will have, or have 5x faster, than today. Gartner

DevOps skills generated nearly 14.5 percent in average market value with average salary of $105,709 for DevOps Engineers, according to Glassdoor. Lead DevOps Engineers in the US, Forbes Magazine

Why join these courses?

Growing industry demand for trained talent

Highly paid jobs even at the entry-level

Benefit from a Unique & Innovative learning environment

B. Tech Computer Science & Engineering with Specialization in DevOps & Automation

AGILE LEARNING LAB

Students engage in hands-on learning through project-based learning, where they work in teams to solve real-world problems. This approach fosters collaboration, critical thinking, and problem-solving skills. Students learn to work in agile environments, emphasizing flexibility and adaptability.

The agile learning lab offers a collaborative learning environment where students can experiment, fail, and learn from their mistakes. This approach helps them develop the skills and mindset needed to thrive in the fast-paced world of DevOps and automation.

When it comes to software delivery, speed and agility are critically important in today's world. That's why more and more organizations are embracing DevOps and its many potential benefits: shorter software development cycles, fewer failed releases, and just to name a few.

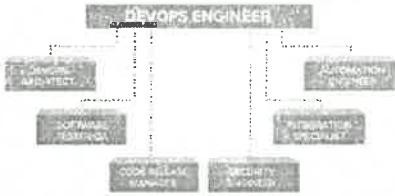

DevOps is a combination of two words: development and operations.

The B.Tech Computer Science & Engineering with Specialization in DevOps & Automation will enable students to work with software development, system operators, and other professionals to build and maintain code systems. They will be able to develop hard as well as soft skills to communicate and collaborate with development, testing, and operations teams to work on the same time to build & manage frequent, incremental updates to code versions, which makes frequent deployment a good learning regimen. The students would be exposed to DevOps Automation Tools like Chef, Jenkins, Spinnaker & Nagios.

Benefits of Agile Learning Lab

1. Flexibility and adaptability that supports agile development through interactive learning.
2. Support for continuous learning, hands-on experience, and collaboration.
3. Building a positive culture and encouraging the habits of regular releases, flexibility.
4. Dynamic environment for students and faculty members to communicate and work together.

Dear Jeyanthi,

In response to your feedback and request, I have developed a programme specifically for your senior students who I believe will appreciate a more demanding and challenging series of electives.

As per the attached proposal, you will see that I have provided a programme that builds upon existing knowledge and understanding with measured outcomes.

In relation to the existing course proposal, which is focussed on multi-disciplinary electives, we are possibly looking at two very different options of study.

Whilst the new course option is relatively straight forward to deliver, it would be beneficial to mutually agree a minimum number of students to make this off-shoot programme viable.

I look forward to understanding your thoughts.

In relation to hosting students for Winter Short Courses, this sounds very exciting. I shall be passing on your suggestions to a number of academic course leaders I believe may wish to explore this opportunity further.

Let's speak again soon.

Best wishes,

Pete

Dear Prof. Antim Dev Mishra,

I hope this message finds you well. I wanted to take a moment to express our gratitude for the opportunity to collaborate on the Self-Driving Cars Workshop held on 8th June 2019 at Ansal University.

We are pleased to hear that the workshop was a great success, and Mr. Karan Verma, our expert speaker, thoroughly enjoyed interacting with the students and faculty. The enthusiastic participation and insightful discussions truly made this a memorable event. Mr. Verma was particularly impressed by the keen interest shown by the attendees in autonomous vehicle technologies and their applications.

We would like to extend our thanks to you and your team for the smooth coordination and excellent hospitality during the event. It was a pleasure working with the School of Engineering and Technology, and we hope this marks the beginning of a fruitful and long-lasting association between Thingify Technologies and Ansal University.

Looking forward to future collaborations.

Subject: Invitation to Conduct a Workshop on "Self-Driving Cars"

Dear Sir/Madam,

I hope this message finds you well.

We are delighted to invite your organization to associate a trainer to conduct a one-day workshop on "Self-Driving Cars" at the School of Engineering and Technology (SET), Ansal University. The workshop is scheduled for 8th June 2019, and it aims to provide our students with a comprehensive understanding of autonomous vehicle technology.

The details of the event are as follows:

Date: 8th June 2019

Time: 10:00 AM onwards

Venue: School of Engineering and Technology, Ansal University, Gurgaon

We believe that your trainer's expertise will significantly enhance the learning experience for our students, equipping them with the latest knowledge and skills in this cutting-edge field.

Kindly confirm your participation and provide the name of the trainer who will lead the workshop. We look forward to a positive response and the opportunity to collaborate with Thingify Technologies.

Thank you for considering our invitation.

Thanks and regards,

Description (min 250 to max 800 words)*

A hand on workshop on Oritecture was organised by Oneistox with mentor Mr. Ankon Mitra on 17th, 18th and 19th January 2019. The workshop focussed on experimenting with Origami basics as well as advanced forms. Participants created forms with materials such as Paper, Wood, Plastic and Fabric. The success of the workshop lied on the multidisciplinary approach with designs ranging from a flat pack shelter to jewelery design.

Mentor | Ankon Mitra, Design Director (Landscape), at Hexagramm Design Pvt. Ltd

Ankon Mitra an Architect by training and artist by temperament with keen interest in geometry and mathematics. He has intensive research in tessellating geometries folding processes in nature and origami in paper, Plastics and metals. Conducted scores of workshops in geometry and origami related to Fashion, Industrial design and Architecture.

Key Points:

• Crux of Origami
Lecture and hands-on work to crack the basics of Origami design.

• Folding Techniques
An intensive coursework involving the techniques that go behind origami.

• Explore Materiality
Learn to apply origami techniques to varied materials like Tyvek, wood, paper & plastics.

• Fabrication Techniques
Be the first to learn an upcoming field of design. Get exposed & explore Oritecture design in India.

• Add to Portfolio
Final design output will range from a flat pack shelter to a chair design. You get to choose - what to build, and actually get all the assistance to help you make it.

Description (min 250 to max 800 words)*

No technical institute can work in isolation, without the cooperation or the active participation by the industry of which it forms an integral part.

The Campus to Corporate forum created by the Pullman Hotels, Aerocity, in which the resources looking after training and placement at the various reputed hospitality institutes were invited for dinner on Friday, July 29, is a major step in this direction, in which the situations faced by the industry and, more so the academia, were discussed in great detail. It brought together the two entities and Mr. Vineet Mishra, cluster general manager of Accor Hotels expressed that there was a need to fill the gap for a better and a more result-oriented functioning of the two entities.

Mr. Kulmohan Singh and Mr. Saif Anjum attended this meeting on behalf of the Vatel Hotel & Tourism Business School, Sushant University.

Description (min 250 to max 800 words)***

The student exchange program between Ansal University in India and King Mongkut's University of Technology Thonburi (KMUTT) in Thailand emerged as a transformative journey for aspiring product design students. Spanning from August to December 2019, this collaborative initiative facilitated a cross-cultural immersion, fostering a rich exchange of ideas, perspectives, and design philosophies that would shape the participants' academic and professional futures.

This unique program offered a diverse curriculum that blended theoretical knowledge with hands-on experiences. It was meticulously designed to challenge students to expand their creative boundaries and think outside the conventional paradigms of design. The curriculum included an array of workshops, seminars, and collaborative projects that not only enhanced their technical skills but also broadened their cultural and artistic horizons.

One of the program's highlights was its emphasis on traditional Thai design aesthetics. Through various workshops conducted by KMUTT's seasoned faculty and local artisans, students were introduced to the intricacies of Thai art and craftsmanship. They learned about the historical significance and cultural symbolism embedded in traditional Thai designs. This exposure was invaluable, providing students with a deeper understanding of how cultural heritage can influence contemporary design practices.

In return, students from Ansal University brought their own contemporary perspectives to the table. They shared innovative ideas and modern design philosophies that sparked lively discussions and debates among their Thai counterparts. This exchange of ideas created a dynamic learning environment where students were encouraged to question, experiment, and push the boundaries of conventional design thinking.

The collaborative projects were particularly instrumental in fostering this exchange. Mixed teams of Indian and Thai students worked together to tackle real-world design challenges. These projects required them to combine their diverse skill sets and perspectives, resulting in innovative solutions that reflected a fusion of traditional and contemporary design elements. The experience of working in such a multicultural team not only enhanced their collaborative skills but also taught them the importance of empathy, communication, and adaptability in the design process.

Beyond the academic and professional growth, the semester exchange program also became a platform for building lifelong friendships and professional networks. Living and studying in a foreign country for several months allowed students to form deep connections with their peers. They experienced the warmth of Thai hospitality, explored the vibrant culture of Bangkok, and shared countless moments of joy and learning with their new friends. These relationships often transcended geographical boundaries, turning into lasting bonds that would support them throughout their careers.

The impact of this program was profound and far-reaching. As students returned to their respective institutions, they carried with them a global mindset and an enriched skill set. They had gained a deeper appreciation for the multifaceted nature of product design and were more aware of the cultural nuances that influence design practices around the world. This international exposure not only made them better designers but also more thoughtful and culturally sensitive individuals.

Moreover, the experience of studying abroad and navigating a different cultural landscape equipped them with essential life skills. They learned to be more independent, resourceful, and resilient. These attributes are crucial in today's globalized world, where professionals often need to work across different cultures and adapt to rapidly changing environments.

The success of the student exchange program between Ansal University and KMUTT underscores the importance of cross-cultural educational initiatives in shaping the next generation of designers. By fostering a rich exchange of ideas and perspectives, such programs prepare students to tackle global challenges with creativity, empathy, and a deep understanding of cultural diversity. They highlight the power of education in bridging cultural divides and creating a more interconnected and harmonious world.

In conclusion, the student exchange program between Ansal University and KMUTT was not just an academic endeavor but a holistic learning experience that profoundly impacted the participants' personal and professional lives. It demonstrated how cross-cultural collaboration could lead to innovative design solutions and foster a deeper appreciation for the diversity that enriches our world. As these students move forward in their careers, they will undoubtedly carry the lessons learned and the friendships formed during this transformative journey, contributing to the global design community in meaningful and impactful ways.

Dear Prof Antim

I hope this message finds you well. I wanted to take a moment to express my sincere appreciation for the successful completion of the "Blockchain (Ethereum Learning)" workshop held on 27th-28th September 2019 at your esteemed institution.

It was a pleasure collaborating with you and your team at Ansal University. Our trainers, Mr. Ankit Sharma and Ms. Radhika Mehta, thoroughly enjoyed conducting the sessions and were impressed by the enthusiasm and engagement shown by your students. The insightful discussions and practical approach adopted during the workshop made it a valuable learning experience for all involved.

We are excited about the potential future opportunities for collaboration between Thingify Technologies and Ansal University. Please feel free to reach out to us for any similar initiatives or projects in the future.

Once again, thank you for making this event a success, and we look forward to working with you again.

Description (min 250 to max 800 words)***

To expose students to planting variety and landscape restoration of a heritage garden/nursery. The varied scales of the designed spaces and the responsiveness via landscape and planting design were to be understood and imbibed – from Master planning of the historic nursery to the detailed use of plant specimens and materials for the smallest of intimate spaces. Landscape design and planting for bonsai gardens, eco-trails, lakes, amphitheaters and the Mughal gardens were on display, to learn different design responses to varied functions in the landscape.

Key Points:

- Visit to Sunder Nursery
- To see various kinds of Landscape Elements and to document the variety of trees, shrubs
- To see the old monuments and structures in and around the sunder nursery and to document the same in the form of pictures, sketches and text.
- To analyze and to present the documented data in Class.

Description (min 250 to max 800 words)*	On 12th November 2019, INTACH (Indian National Trust for Art and Cultural Heritage) conducted a College Heritage Volunteer Training Programme, specifically aimed at training students in the nuances of conservation and restoration of heritage structures. This event saw the enthusiastic participation of students from Sushant University, who engaged in a day of learning and hands-on experiences that underscored the importance of preserving India's rich cultural heritage.

The programme began with an introductory session that provided a comprehensive overview of INTACH's mission and its ongoing projects. The students were given insights into the history and significance of various heritage sites across India, with a particular emphasis on the challenges faced in their conservation. This session was designed to foster a deeper understanding and appreciation of heritage conservation among the participants.

Following the introduction, experts in the field of heritage conservation shared their experiences and expertise through a series of lectures and presentations. These covered a range of topics including traditional methods of conservation, modern restoration techniques, and the importance of sustainable practices in maintaining the integrity of heritage structures. The speakers also highlighted case studies of successful conservation projects, demonstrating the practical application of the techniques discussed.

A significant portion of the training was dedicated to hands-on activities, where students were divided into small groups to engage in practical exercises. These activities were supervised by experienced conservationists who provided guidance and feedback. The students had the opportunity to work with various materials and tools used in conservation work, giving them a real-world feel of the complexities involved in restoring heritage structures. This experiential learning component was crucial in helping the students understand the meticulous nature of conservation work.

Additionally, the programme included site visits to nearby heritage structures where ongoing restoration projects were taking place. These visits allowed the students to observe and analyze the restoration processes in a real-world context. They were able to interact with the professionals on-site, ask questions, and gain insights into the day-to-day challenges faced by conservationists. Such interactions were invaluable in bridging the gap

	between theoretical knowledge and practical application. The training programme concluded with a reflective session where students shared their experiences and discussed the key takeaways from the day. Many expressed a newfound appreciation for heritage conservation and a desire to contribute to this field in the future. The facilitators emphasized the importance of continued learning and involvement in heritage conservation efforts. Overall, the College Heritage Volunteer Training Programme organized by INTACH on 12th November 2019 was a resounding success. It provided the students of Sushant University with a comprehensive understanding of the principles and practices of heritage conservation. Through a combination of theoretical knowledge, practical exercises, and real-world observations, the programme inspired and equipped the next generation of conservationists with the skills and passion needed to preserve India's invaluable cultural heritage.

As an integral part of blood donation camp that was organised on 25th Nov,19 awareness talk was being conducted for SSHS students to sensitize them about the thalassemia, how lack of awareness is resulting in many cases and students were also briefed about the statistics of occurrence of thalassemia in India. The Key note speaker for this awareness talk was Dr. R. K. Bhargava, Senior Rotary Club member.

Dr. R.K Bhargava, as a Rotarian since 1990, he has served on several rotary committees and managed rotary projects for Blood Donation, Polio Eradication, Digital literacy, Drug abuse Prevention, awareness against smoking, and some others and has held several offices at Club level and District level.

Thalassemia is an inherited blood disorder in which body is incapable of producing normal amount of haemoglobin in red blood cells, resulting in severe anaemia. Patients suffering from this blood disorder requires blood transfusion every month.

Students were also briefed about the importance of blood donation. At the end of the session, as a part of the seminar, skit was performed by health science students on Importance of Blood Donation.

Session ended with the vote of thanks.

Subject: Request to Conduct a Guest Talk on Thalassemia and Other Blood Disorders

Dear Sir/Madam,

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to propose a guest talk focused on Thalassemia and other blood disorders, aimed at enhancing awareness and understanding of these important health issues within our community.

Objectives of the Talk:

- To educate attendees about Thalassemia and related blood disorders, including their causes, symptoms, and treatment options.
- To emphasize the importance of early diagnosis and the available screening methods.
- To provide resources and support for individuals and families affected by these conditions.

Format of the Talk:

- A presentation by an expert in hematology.
- An interactive Q&A session to engage the audience and address their concerns.
- Distribution of informational materials and resources (if possible).

Proposed Date and Venue:

We would like to schedule the talk on November-2019 end at Ansal University, Gurugram. We are open to adjustments based on availability and convenience.

We believe that this guest talk will make a significant impact on raising awareness and fostering a supportive community. Your support in facilitating this event would be greatly appreciated.

Thank you for considering our request. I look forward to your positive response.

Description (min 250 to max 800 words)*	On November 28, 2019, the Westminster and the School of Art and Architecture at Sushant University organized a thought-provoking guest lecture titled "Beyond the Spectacle: Exploring the Nexus of Art, Migration, and the Law." This event brought together academics, artists, students, and professionals to delve into the complex interplay between artistic expression, migratory movements, and legal frameworks. The lecture aimed to transcend the superficial representations of migration often seen in media and popular culture, instead fostering a deeper understanding of the lived experiences of migrants and the socio-legal contexts that shape these experiences. By examining the intersections of art, migration, and law, the event sought to highlight how art can serve as a powerful medium for expressing migrant narratives and advocating for social justice. Keynote speakers included distinguished scholars and practitioners from various fields, each bringing unique perspectives to the discussion. One of the highlights was the presentation by Dr. Maria Amparo Cruz-Saco, an expert in migration studies, who explored the historical and contemporary migration patterns, emphasizing the role of art in documenting and humanizing these journeys. Her insights into how visual and performing arts can challenge dominant narratives and influence public opinion were particularly enlightening. The event also featured a compelling talk by renowned artist and activist, Sunil Gupta. His work, which often focuses on themes of identity, displacement, and belonging, provided a poignant illustration of how art can capture the nuanced realities of migrant experiences. Gupta's discussion on his photographic series depicting the lives of LGBTQ+ migrants resonated deeply with the audience, highlighting the intersectionality of migration and the additional layers of complexity faced by marginalized groups. Legal scholar Dr. Priya Sood offered a critical analysis of the legal frameworks governing migration, emphasizing the gaps and inconsistencies that often lead to human rights violations. Her examination of international and

	national laws provided a backdrop for understanding the structural challenges faced by migrants. Dr. Sood's perspective underscored the necessity for more inclusive and humane legal policies that consider the holistic well-being of migrants. The lecture was not limited to theoretical discussions but also showcased practical initiatives where art and law converge to support migrant communities. One such initiative was the collaborative project between artists and legal aid organizations to provide legal literacy to migrant workers through artistic workshops. This project demonstrated the potential of art to not only raise awareness but also empower migrants with the knowledge and tools needed to navigate complex legal systems. Interactive sessions allowed the audience to engage directly with the speakers, fostering a dynamic exchange of ideas. Students from the School of Art and Architecture presented their projects that addressed migration issues through various artistic mediums, from visual arts to installations, further enriching the discourse. In conclusion, "Beyond the Spectacle: Exploring the Nexus of Art, Migration, and the Law" was a significant event that highlighted the transformative power of art in addressing critical social issues. By bringing together diverse voices and perspectives, the lecture underscored the importance of interdisciplinary approaches in understanding and advocating for migrant rights. It also inspired attendees to think creatively and critically about the role of art and law in shaping a more equitable and inclusive society.

Subject: Request to conduct a workshop for students to gain cardiac cath. knowledge

Dear Sir/Madam,

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to request the organization of a workshop focused on cardiac catheterization to provide an overview of the cardiac catheterization process, including indications, techniques, and patient management and to offer practical demonstrations and hands-on experience with the latest equipment and technologies used in cardiac catheterization. This workshop would serve as an excellent opportunity for healthcare professionals to enhance their knowledge and skills in this critical area of cardiac care.

We would like to propose 20th Dec. 2019 at Ansal University campus. However, we are open to suggestions based on availability.

We believe that this workshop will significantly benefit our team and improve our patient care capabilities. Your assistance in arranging this workshop would be greatly appreciated.

Thank you for considering our request. I look forward to your positive response.
