Presently, she's assistant professor at the Sushant School of Art and Architecture, Ansal University, Gurgaon.

Upon the annexation of Kashmir by Emperor Akbar in 1586 CE, efforts were made by the Mughal Empire to strengthen communication and better integrate the Valley with the rest of their Indian sub-continental empire. During the Mughal reign, of the three routes that connected Kashmir to the plains—the Northern Road following the course of the Jhelum River entering Kashmir from Rawalpindi via Baramulla on a waterway, the Southern Road from Jammu via Banihal, and the Middle Road from Lahore across the Peer ki Gali mountain pass traversing the Pir Panjal range—the last emerged as the most favoured route, having been infrastructurally strengthened through improved road systems and construction of a chain of halting stations for the royal entourage's comfort. What was once a humble pedestrian track known as the Namak Road, used primarily for the import of salt from Punjab to Kashmir, witnessed Emperor Akbar travelling down it twice, Emperor Jahangir at least eight times by his own accounts, and Emperors Shah Jahan and Aurungzeb once each, in the period of its peak glory between 1586 CE and 1664 CE as the Mughal Imperial Road. Even as the Indian-segment Mughal Road was resurrected in 2014, albeit not in absolute alignment with the historic road, much of the public memory surrounding this cultural route had by then been eroded, as it was kept alive in the interim period of more than 300 years by only the Gujjar and Bakkarwal herders via their practice of biannual migration between the hills of Kashmir to the plains of Jammu. The historicity and former glory of this road can now be established only through records from the Mughal and Early Colonial Era, oral histories collected from contiguous communities, and the heritage assets that exist primarily in the form of caravanserai remains lining the route in varying degrees of obsolescence. This module seeks to achieve exactly this.

Part II

5. Goal/ Purpose of the Event: The exhibition Strung Course, life and work of C P Kukreja was the 3rd in the series of Modern Indian Architects (MIA), an initiative of Sushant School of Art and Architecture, Ansal University where we research and disseminate the works of Modern Indian Architects after the Independence. The exhibition started on 15 April 2020 and was on until 31st May 2020. About MIA A new generation of architects established modernism in India after independence which contributes remarkably to the architectural stock of the country as well as internationally. Sushant School of Art and Architecture (SSAA) has planned a series of exhibitions to provide a platform to collate the works and archives of Indian modernists. The main aim behind these exhibitions is to impart awareness about modern architecture in India as a missing link in Indian architecture history and highlight its significance for our society and future generations. This becomes even more relevant in the light of recent demolitions of these modern buildings which are not identified or notified for any type of protection by government or private sector.
6. Materials/ Facilities used: JKC Gallery, AV room

Part III

7. Summary of the proceeding: C P Kukreja: Sustainability and Materiality, showcased works from the architect's formative years through five decades of his practice ranging from housing, institutions, healthcare facilities, hospitality sector, offices, industries, commercial, religious and recreational Infrastructure. The idea was to highlight CPK's understanding of design principles, which integrate strong architectural and environmental design philosophies, successfully blending with material science and sustainable construction technology. The exhibition included drawings, sketches, models, and photographs of projects built in India and internationally. We hope that through this exhibition his work reaches out, gets discovered and appreciated by a wide public audience.

4. Audience and Participants: SSAA Students and Faculty- Professionals, students from other colleges

Part II

5. Schedule of the Event:

12.02.2019: DAY 1: WRITING ARCHITECTURE

The Opening Day of iPac is dedicated to the idea of bringing architects and artists into a closer dialogue. SSAA, living up to its name and original intent places much importance to the Arts past of our profession. The panels comprise of people who represents the finest proponents of this dialogue between architects and artists. We have His Excellency Francesco Pensabene - the Italian ambassador to India, Satish Gupta - an eminent artist, MN Ashish Ganju - an architect and educator, as well as Roshini Vadehra - art collector and owner of a famous art gallery. The life and works of the legendary architect and educator CSH Jhabvala would be introduced by I M Chishti, himself as architect an educator of great repute, followed by a photographic exhibition of Jhabvala's works at the JKC Gallery at SSAA.

13.02.2019: DAY 2: HEALING BY DESIGN

On the Second Day of iPAC, design is not limited to the verb "design", or the process of putting together a product, but the "intention" or program of achieving an end result. Design absolutely needs to acknowledge all those it touches, especially those it has routinely and intentionally ignored. The land itself, with its history, original inhabitants, both man and nature, its natural processes, native vegetation, water systems, etc. must come into the equation for a truly Democratic resolution. Why? Because every critter counts! Then and only then will the wounds inflicted by greed, politics, narcissism, and exploitation, begin to heal, and the design professionals redeem themselves.

The day is led by Gregory Burgess –widely acclaimed for his major contribution to the Australian identity, cultural life, and the built environment in a practice that has been upheld as model for its cultural sensitivity, inclusive collaborative process, its powerful and poetic embodiment of spirit of

14.02.2019: DAY 3: MAPPING KEEPING

The Third Day of iPAC is divided into two components – a talk and a design charrette.

The talk - (Don't) Put Her in Her Place by Dr Anuradha Chatterjee - will discuss the patriarchal foundations of women, space, and sexuality. It will argue that acts of violence (physical, emotional, and sexual) against women in a public space are also acts of spatial violence. The talk will discuss current urban art projects and performances that seek to confront and unsettle these norms and perceptions.

This talk will also set the stage for a Design Charrette by a group of students from SSAA who will select a site and suggest a new, utopian future of what women are able to do in a public space; challenge the dichotomy between public and private space; and reconceptualise the public realm. Students would challenge existing social relationships and propose alternative social relationships that empower women to imagine new spatial utopias which make possible new ways of claiming ownership of public spaces.

15.02.2019: DAY 4: WRITING ARCHITECTURE

The Fourth Day of iPAC questions whether we write enough (on) architecture.

What are the ways in which architecture can be or rather should be written (about)? What if architecture or the making of the built environment becomes a way of writing itself onto sites, contexts and histories? What if History becomes the method of writing architecture of the future? The Writing Architecture Day at iPac2019 will explore these questions and many more to build a discourse relevant to the entire discipline. It will engage with a plethora of forms of writing through talks and focused huddles around each question that arises. We include architects, writers, historians, pedagogues, practitioners, academicians, scholars and observers of the discipline into the debate.

The day would culminate in the launch of our journal Verandah, SSAA's very own initiative on writing (of/in/by) architecture. Verandah's contributors will, through a curated exhibition of their works, present the ideas and contribute to the (dif)fusion of making and writing Architecture.

16.02.2019: DAY 5: URBAN FUTURES

Gurgaon is unique as a city that grew at an unprecedented pace over a few decades to get established as the 'Millenium City' at the beginning of the 21st century. The economic impact of the city is reflected in its having the third highest per capita income in India and Indian offices of half of Fortune 500 companies. Gurgaon has been an experimental ground with many facets that emerged at a lighting speed, positioning it as a manufacturing, real estate, commercial and financial hub over

'Urban Futures' by SSAA and SSPD is a platform to deliberate on two thematic areas in particular. The first one addresses the emergent role of Gurgaon as an education hub and explores its future as a learning city. The second one is focused on tackling issues with respect to urban development that are viewed as experiments driven by diverse stakeholders coming together to create an inclusive future.

Urban Futures has been structured into brief presentations and two panel discussions 'Gurgaon: A Learning City' and 'Gurgaon: A Living Lab' that create a dialogue between global learnings and local initiatives, to create a collective vision about the future of Gurgaon. These deliberations will be taken forward as a commitment towards 2020 urban conference that will disseminate as well as assimilate.

Subject: Addition to the previously approval of Budget for visit to 15th International Vatel Convention, Lyon, France for Prof. (Dr.) Garima Parkash from 2nd November to 8th November 2021.

Good morning sir,

We are seeking your approval for the addition budget over & above the previously approved budget of Rs.1, 10,000/- for attending of 15th Vatel International Convention happening at Lyon, France from 2nd to 9th November 2021.

The reason for the additional budget is majorly due to two factors:

1. Back and forth from the airport to Convention's venue now has to be borne by the attendees (attached an approximate information of fare as provided by Vatel France).
2. Due to the delay in the issue of the Visa, the flight booking has also been delayed which has resulted in increase of the cost of flight tickets.
3. Possible expense on one more room night as there is no flight for India on 7th Nov 2021, the day of departure as per the itinerary of the conference. We are in discussion with Vatel France if they can accommodate the same.

We are seeking an additional approval of Rs. 90,000/- which will cover the above mentioned budget heads which is to be transferred to the account of Prof. (Dr.) Garima Parkash & she shall be submitting the bills on actuals on the day of arrival back to India.

Also is attached the previous approved green note for your reference.

Submitted for your kind approval.

Kind regards,

Lyon, le 6 novembre 2023 / November 6th, 2023

Objet : 17ème Convention Internationale Vatel 2023 – compte-rendu

Mesdames, Messieurs les Directeurs, Chers Amis,

Pour ma première Convention en tant que Présidente, j'ai été ravie de vous retrouver nombreux au Rwanda ! Un immense merci à la directrice de Vatel Kigali, Mme Nicole Bamukunde, et à sa formidable équipe, pour nous avoir accueillis si chaleureusement et professionnellement dans leur beau pays.

Vous trouverez dans VatelConnect VatelConnect Convention 2023 les différentes présentations, ainsi que les vidéos de la plénière d'ouverture du 24/10 et de la matinée de travail du 26/10.
Toutes les photos sont aussi à disposition !

L'essentiel de nos travaux a porté sur l'Intelligence Artificielle, et les apports de cette technologie pour nos écoles. D'ici au 15 décembre 2023, je vous invite à revenir vers Mme Annick Aveni et M. Paul d'Azemar afin de leur faire part des actions concrètes que vous avez mises en œuvre.

L'Intelligence Artificielle est aussi le thème retenu pour la prochaine édition du Cirvath. Je vous encourage vivement à relayer auprès de vos professeurs l'appel à contributions, afin de recevoir le plus grand nombre d'articles possible. Par ailleurs, je vous rappelle que les articles publiés dans les Cahiers du Cirvath peuvent désormais être partagés sur la bibliothèque en ligne de l'OMT, permettant de valoriser le travail de vos professeurs, et pour un maximum de visibilité (<https://www.unwto.org/academy/digital/resources>).

Concernant la création de la « Vatel Academy » ; les premières Académies ouvriront en France à horizon 2025-2026. Dans l'intervalle, les écoles intéressées sont d'ores et déjà bienvenues pour transmettre à M. Paul d'Azemar leurs besoins et propositions (si ce n'est déjà fait).

Enfin, comme chaque année, j'ai eu le plaisir d'accueillir dans le réseau Vatel deux nouvelles écoles : une sur le continent africain, Vatel Brazzaville, et une en Europe à Sofia. Je leur souhaite un bon démarrage, et beaucoup de réussite à leurs futurs étudiants !

Durant cette Convention, sur les 53 écoles Vatel, 19 n'étaient malheureusement pas présentes. Lors de notre prochaine Convention à Bahreïn début 2025, je compte sur la présence et l'engagement de l'ensemble des directrices et des directeurs. Au-delà de l'obligation contractuelle de présence à la Convention que je tiens à rappeler, vos participations et contributions sont essentielles pour le bon fonctionnement de notre réseau et en font sa force.

Je suis ainsi impatiente de vous retrouver toutes et tous à Bahreïn, et vous adresse mes meilleurs sentiments.

Mme Karine Sabban-Benzazon
Présidente

Object: 17th Vatel 2023 International Convention– minutes

Ladies and Gentlemen Directors, Dear Friends,

For my first Convention as Chairwoman, I was delighted to meet again so many of you in Rwanda! Kudos to the Director of Vatel Kigali, Ms Nicole Bamukunde, and her wonderful team, for giving us such a warm and professional welcome in their beautiful country.

You will find in VatelConnect VatelConnect Convention 2023 the presentations, as well as the videos of the opening session on Oct. 24th and the working session on Oct. 26th. All the photos are also available!

Most of our work focused on Artificial Intelligence, and how this technology can benefit our schools. By December 15th, 2023, I invite you to get back to Ms Annick Aveni and Mr Paul d'Azemar to let them know of the concrete actions you have implemented.

Artificial Intelligence is also the theme of the next Cirvath. I urge you to forward the call for papers to your teachers, so that we can receive as many articles as possible. I would also like to remind you that articles published in the "Cahiers du Cirvath" can now be shared on the UNWTO online library, in order to promote your teachers' work, and for maximum visibility (<https://www.unwto.org/academy/digital/resources>).

Regarding the creation of "Vatel Academy", the first Academies will open in France by 2025-2026. In the meantime, interested schools can already send Mr Paul d'Azemar their needs and proposals (if they haven't already done so).

Finally, as every year, I had the pleasure of welcoming two new schools into the Vatel network: one on the African continent, Vatel Brazzaville, and one in Europe, Sofia. I wish them a good start, and much success for their future students!

During this Convention, unfortunately, 19 schools out of the 53 Vatel schools did not attend. At our next Convention in Bahrain in early 2025, I am counting on the attendance and commitment of all the directors.
