KUND [illegible]

Introduction

[illegible] terms [illegible] conditions [illegible] EGALACTIC [illegible] URKUND [illegible] EGALACTIC [illegible] referred to as "the URKUND [illegible] licence holder [illegible] The Customer [illegible] the EGALACTIC for the use of the anti-plagiarism services [illegible] URKUND services". It is the obligation of The Customer [illegible] to relay these terms [illegible] to the individual users within The Customer's organisation. Unless specifically stated otherwise in the customer agreement, these terms & [illegible] any other [illegible] terms & conditions [illegible] URKUND [illegible] the Customer.

2. Definition and [illegible] of the URKUND [illegible]

The URKUND [illegible] services [illegible] to "URKUND" [illegible] control", "web [illegible] "admin [illegible]" [illegible] is defined at http://www.URKUND.com. EGALACTIC can modify the content of the URKUND [illegible] the search system, and new services and close services without prior notification to The Customer. EGALACTIC [illegible] liability arising from such measures. The rights to use the URKUND services accrue to The Customer as defined in these terms & conditions and in the customer agreement. If The Customer is a school, the right is accrued to the staff at that school. If The Customer is a department of a school, the right is accrued to the staff at that department. If The Customer is a business corporation or a government department, the right accrues to those that upon agreement with EGALACTIC have been granted access to the URKUND services. EGALACTIC has the right to restrict The Customer's use of the URKUND services immediately for use outside those intended. EGALACTIC also has the right to deny the creation of, or disable already created, user accounts if EGALACTIC suspects that they are used or will be used by someone outside of the organisation, e.g. if the email addresses which the user account is based on differ from the organisation's standard email format. If a limit of the number of submitted documents is set, the number of documents allowed to be sent by The Customer during the licence period is regulated in the customer agreement. If a limit of the number of submitted documents is set, it is the responsibility of EGALACTIC to notify The Customer when the document limit is reached. The Customer will need to renew the agreement upon reaching the document limit if they wish to have continued access to the service. It is The Customer's responsibility to report documents that they do not agree to count into the document limit (e.g. missing reports, corrupt documents etc.) before the contract is due for renewal. "Unlimited use" of EGALACTIC's system means that The Customer can use the service however often they desire, unless breaking the clauses outlined in these terms of service and without relinquishing responsibility that the system is not abused. Should EGALACTIC discover that the relation between the number of submitters stated in the contract and the number of documents submitted is abnormally high, The Customer is obligated to help EGALACTIC find the reason or source and help remedy the situation. If The Customer neglects to do so or if the situation is deemed by EGALACTIC to be urgent, EGALACTIC reserves the right to restrict the access to the system with immediate effect. The number of documents sent under an unlimited licence must correspond to "fair use", i.e. to be reasonable in that the number of submitted documents is to be in line with what one can reasonably expect to be produced by the number of students for which the university is licensing URKUND. This is calculated to be up to fifteen documents per student per year.

3. Limitation of liability

The URKUND services will be provided to The Customer "as is" and "as available". This means that EGALACTIC does not guarantee The Customer that data or the URKUND services will correspond to the needs or expectations of The Customer, that usage of the URKUND services will be without interruption or without error and that these, in that case, will or could be corrected. EGALACTIC's liability is limited to direct damages and only if caused through EGALACTIC's negligence. EGALACTIC's responsibility is limited to direct losses and cannot be extended to consequential or indirect damages such as anticipated loss of revenue, cost of capital, loss of time or cost of substitute services. Furthermore, EGALACTIC's liability can never exceed the amount invoiced The Customer during the last invoicing period. Nor does EGALACTIC accept any liability for the consequences of use or misuse of its reports or published recommendations and advice. EGALACTIC shall be considered as exempt of compensation claims and other consequences if EGALACTIC has not been able to fulfil their obligations due to circumstances outside EGALACTIC's control or circumstances that could not be anticipated ('force majeure' or 'an act of god'). Exonerating circumstances like these are mainly, but not limited to, industrial actions, war, fire, lightning, earthquake, government legislation or other public rules and regulations.

4. Implementation and support thereof

a) URKUND does not monitor The Customer's progress of implementing the use of the service. Upon signing a contract, URKUND shall send The Customer instructions on how to start using the service. If The Customer needs additional explanations, it is The Customer's obligation to contact URKUND to request such support.

b) The Customer must be aware that the support URKUND can give to The Customer is limited to what can be configured on the systems which URKUND controls, such as URKUND settings or plug-ins / integrations that have been created or commissioned by URKUND. URKUND does not commit to developing additional functionality or changing or adjusting the current system to accommodate the needs or requests of a specific customer.

c) Any configuration of installed plugins in The Customer's own IT environment must be done by The Customer itself or by The Customer's IT providers. If support is needed from URKUND to configure The Customer's own IT environment, URKUND shall charge The Customer an hourly rate of 110 EUR for this; however, URKUND may choose to decline such support if it is not commercially able to provide it or if it is not viable to provide this support. In case on-site support from URKUND is required, The Customer will be liable for travel expenses as well as the hourly rate.

d) If URKUND deems a support issue to be related to problems in the settings, configurations of The Customer's own IT environment, or due to faults therein, URKUND shall inform The Customer of this but shall not be bound to support The Customer with these issues.

e) If The Customer requests support that URKUND deems be related to The Customer's incorrect use of the service, URKUND shall only be bound to supporting The Customer to understand the correct methods of using the system. URKUND is not bound to support customers that wish to use the system in ways that are not recommended by URKUND. Usage of the system that is against URKUND's terms and conditions will be treated as per the terms and conditions.

4. Customer's obligations

The Customer agrees to act so that the URKUND services are not used in contravention of the terms & conditions of this agreement or applicable law. The Customer agrees not to reveal usernames and passwords to unauthorised persons and not to store documents containing information with usernames and passwords in such a way that unauthorised persons can access them. The Customer agrees to contact EGALACTIC if it is suspected that unauthorised persons have gained knowledge of The Customer's username and password. The Customer is responsible for updates of new users and furthermore to make sure that only authorised users have access to the URKUND services. For this purpose, it is possible to use the administration tool provided by EGALACTIC, or through contact with EGALACTIC. Dear Sir,

This is to apprise you that the UGC-INFLIBNET gives subscriptions to all the Universities across India for anti-plagiarism software and I have been the University Coordinator for Ouriginal (formerly Urkund).
Now, INFLIBNET center is shifting to Drillbit software as they have ended their contract with Ouriginal now owned by Turnitin.

As discussed with VC sir, from now on you will be a new University coordinator for anti-plagiarism software Drillbit.

Your responsibility will be to create the account for the faculty and research scholars of SU, conduct training sessions in collaboration with INFLIBNET/Drillbit once a semester, check the plagiarism of the documents, and send the reports to the scholars who are unable to do it on their own.

For any queries, please feel free to contact me.

Thank you

Best regards
Monika
