On 11th September 2019, the School of Design at Sushant University hosted a highly engaging and informative workshop titled "Soft skills workshop for designers." Recognizing the vital role that soft skills play in the design industry, the workshop aimed to equip students with essential interpersonal, communication, and professional skills to enhance their academic and career prospects. The session was specifically tailored for design students, focusing on skills that complement their technical expertise and foster a holistic approach to their work.

The workshop was designed to help students develop key soft skills, including effective communication, collaboration, critical thinking, time management, and adaptability—skills that are crucial for excelling in both academic settings and professional design environments. It was delivered through a mix of interactive activities, case studies, and expert insights, ensuring that students not only learned about these skills but also practiced and internalized them.

The session began with an introduction to the importance of soft skills in the design profession. The facilitators explained that while technical design abilities are critical, the ability to communicate ideas clearly, work effectively within teams, and manage time efficiently is just as important in driving success. Students were shown how these skills can enhance their problem-solving abilities and enable them to thrive in client-facing roles, design projects, and collaborative environments.

A key component of the workshop was focused on communication skills. The students participated in role-playing exercises and group discussions, learning how to present their ideas confidently, interact with clients, and respond constructively to feedback. The workshop also addressed the importance of active listening and empathy, which are essential for understanding client needs and collaborating effectively with multidisciplinary teams.

Time management and organizational skills were also emphasized as crucial to meeting deadlines and balancing multiple projects. Students were introduced to tools and techniques for prioritizing tasks, setting realistic goals, and maintaining productivity without compromising creativity.

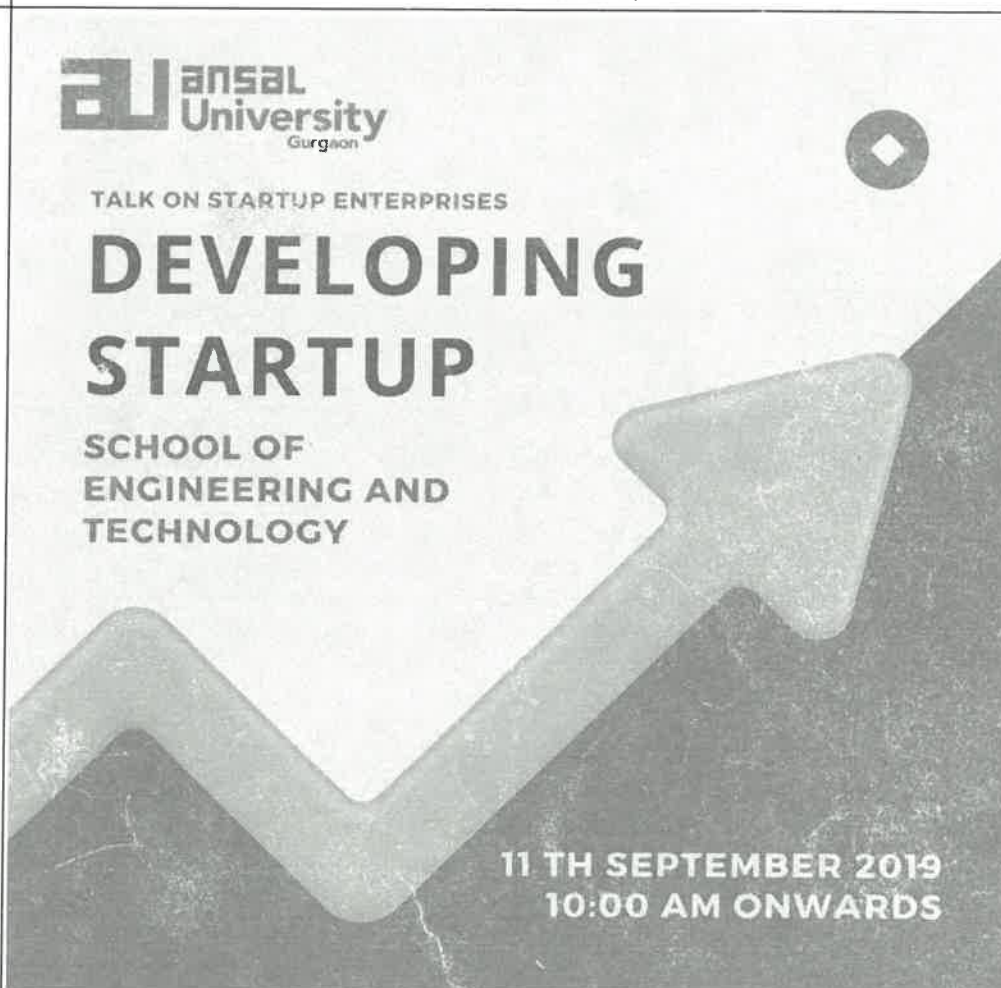

Throughout the workshop, students actively participated in group exercises, discussing case studies, and engaging in real-time problem-solving scenarios. The facilitators provided valuable feedback, helping students refine their soft skills and empowering them to apply these lessons in both academic and professional settings.

	By the end of the workshop, students gained a deeper understanding of how soft skills contribute to their success as designers. They left with a toolkit of strategies for improving communication, collaboration, and professional behavior, prepared to excel in future design projects and workplace environments. This workshop is part of the School of Design's ongoing commitment to fostering well-rounded designers who possess not only technical expertise but also the soft skills necessary to succeed in a competitive, collaborative world.

Description (min 250 to max 800 words)*	Career Counseling: Internship & Placements Drive, held on November 21, 2019, from 11:00 AM to 1:00 PM at Sushant School of Art and Architecture, was an enriching event designed to bridge the gap between the academic environment and professional practice. This session aimed to provide valuable insights into the internship and placement processes, offering guidance to current students as they prepared to enter the competitive job market. The event brought together a panel of successful alumni who had gained significant experience in the architecture and design industry, creating an excellent opportunity for students to learn from those who had been in their shoes just a few years earlier. The session focused on the critical importance of internships in shaping students' professional careers. Alumni shared their own experiences, discussing how their internships had played a pivotal role in their professional development. They emphasized that internships are not just about gaining technical knowledge but also about learning the nuances of the architectural profession—working with clients, meeting deadlines, and understanding the practical challenges of design implementation. The alumni advised students to approach internships with an open mind and a willingness to learn, as these experiences would provide them with a deeper understanding of the architectural field beyond what is taught in the classroom. Moreover, the alumni spoke about the challenges and

	opportunities in securing placements. Many shared tips on building a strong portfolio, honing soft skills like communication and teamwork, and making meaningful connections within the industry. They also highlighted the importance of a proactive approach—whether it be through networking, leveraging social media platforms like LinkedIn, or attending career fairs and industry events. Alumni spoke about how these proactive efforts had helped them land their first job after graduation, and they encouraged students to start building their professional network early in their academic journey. The Internship & Placements Drive also allowed students to ask questions and engage in one-on-one discussions with the alumni, making it a highly interactive session. The insights provided were invaluable for students looking to navigate the transition from education to professional practice. The session reinforced the significance of internships and placements in launching a successful architectural career, while also fostering a sense of community between the school's alumni and its current students.

Description (min 250 to max 800 words)*

A well-crafted career profile and resume are essential tools in securing job interviews and advancing your professional journey. A career profile serves as the opening section of your resume, summarizing your key skills, experiences, and achievements. It should be tailored to the job you're targeting, offering a snapshot of why you're an ideal candidate. Use concise, impactful language to highlight your value proposition and make a strong first impression.

When writing your resume, ensure it is clear, concise, and well-organized. Start with your contact information, followed by your career profile. Include sections for professional experience, education, skills, and certifications. Use bullet points to describe your accomplishments, emphasizing measurable results with action verbs. Tailor your resume for each role, incorporating relevant keywords from the job description to optimize it for Applicant Tracking Systems (ATS).

The workshop concluded with Q& A session where students had the opportunity to ask specific questions related to their career aspirations and challenges. The event was well-received, with many participants expressing their appreciation for the practical advice and personalized support provided. Overall, the Career Counselling and Resume Writing Workshop was a highly beneficial event, providing students with the tools and knowledge needed to navigate their career paths successfully. The personalized guidance and interactive nature of the workshop ensured that each participant left with a clearer vision of their career goals and a stronger, more polished resume.

An online session on Improving Soft Skills was conducted by Dr. Sagarika Goswami on 15th January 2021, from 3:00 PM to 4:00 PM. The session aimed to enhance students' interpersonal and communication abilities, vital for both personal and professional growth.

Dr. Goswami started the session by emphasizing the critical role of soft skills in the modern workplace. She explained that while technical expertise is important, it is often the soft skills—such as communication, emotional intelligence, and adaptability—that make a significant impact on career advancement and success.

The key topics covered during the session included:

Effective Communication: Dr. Goswami discussed the importance of clear, concise, and confident communication, both verbal and non-verbal.

Teamwork and Collaboration: She highlighted strategies for working efficiently in diverse teams, fostering collaboration and mutual respect.

Time Management: Practical techniques for prioritizing tasks, setting goals, and managing time effectively were shared.

Emotional Intelligence: Dr. Goswami provided insights into understanding and managing one's emotions, as well as recognizing and responding to emotions in others.

The session was interactive, with students actively participating in discussions and engaging in role-playing activities designed to simulate real-life scenarios. This hands-on approach helped students better understand how to apply soft skills in various contexts.

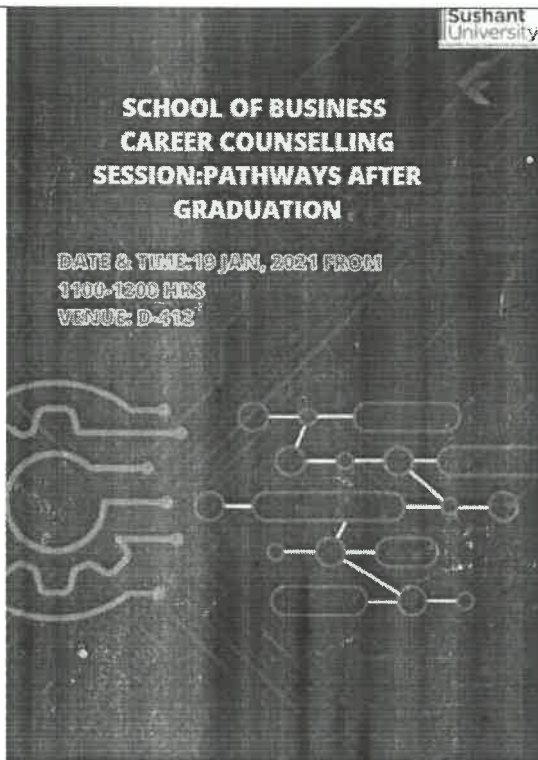

The session concluded with a Q&A, where Dr. Goswami addressed specific challenges faced by students, such as public speaking anxiety and conflict resolution. Her expert advice inspired students to continue developing these skills through practice and self-awareness. Feedback from students was overwhelmingly positive, with many expressing newfound clarity and motivation to improve their soft skills. The "Mock Interviews and Group Discussion Preparation Workshop" held on 20th September 2022 aimed at equipping students with essential skills for succeeding in placement processes and competitive selection procedures. This comprehensive session provided a simulated platform for students to experience real-life interview situations and group discussion settings in a controlled, guided environment.

The workshop began with an overview of the typical structure and expectations of interviews and group discussions, including common evaluation criteria such as communication skills, confidence, clarity of thought, and teamwork. Participants were then divided into smaller groups to take part in live mock interview rounds and group discussions. These were conducted in real-time by experienced faculty members and trainers who acted as interview panelists and observers.

Each session was followed by detailed feedback tailored to individual performances. Trainers highlighted strengths and areas for improvement, offering actionable suggestions to help students enhance their self-presentation, body language, articulation, and response strategies.

One of the key takeaways for students was learning how to handle unexpected or challenging questions and how to manage group dynamics during discussions. The interactive nature of the workshop encouraged students to actively participate and support one another's learning journey.

Overall, the event proved to be highly beneficial, as students gained practical exposure, boosted their confidence, and left with a better understanding of how to approach interviews and GDs. The personalized guidance they received will undoubtedly support their preparation for campus placements and beyond.
