- The general collaboration was made between Arizona State University and Sushant University. The major pointers of the MOU were
- To identify opportunities for exchange of faculty and research staff.
- To develop research programs and projects.
- to explore opportunities for student exchange, studies and research.
- To carry out professional and academic events.
- To manually lend advice, technical support and services.
- To identify other areas of possible interest and collaborations.
- To jointly carry out professional and academic events
- Overall this MOU will provide great opportunities to students pertaining to pursuing studies. abroad and further studies.

This agreement is made within a spirit of equality of capabilities, academic level, rights and responsibilities. ASU and SU agree on the importance and the usefulness of establishing cultural, scientific relationship in order to assert and to consolidate the ties of friendship between the two institutions and between their countries. This agreement will serve as a general framework for cooperation between the two institutions and is intended to facilitate the development of specific bilateral programs of collaboration.

Respected Sir/Ma'am,

As we are aware that the School of Engineering & Technology, Sushant University, is organizing an upcoming International Conference on "Advances in Interdisciplinary Research & Innovation (ICAMRI-2023)" on October 28-29th, 2023.

In this context, I would request respective Deans to kindly provide the names of two organizers and two technical chairs(along with their contact numbers) from their respective schools to handle the session tracks independently for conducting the conference smoothly.

Kindly provide it at the earliest as we need to communicate roles and responsibilities to them.

Architectural Vertical Studio for RVS Chennai Students at School of Art and Architecture, Sushant University

17th Feb-21st Feb , 2022

REPORT

Architectural Vertical Studio was organised with the students of Architecture Department, RVS Chennai at Sushant School of Art and Architecture. The visit to SAA campus was from 17-21 Feb 2022 and the sessions were integrated with 2nd Yr and 3rd Yr students. On Day-1 the students of RVS were introduced to the students and faculty team of SAA. The discussion took place immediately where students of both the schools formed groups and started deliberating on materials and narration related to it. There was a time problem introduced where they had to present the choices of materials for the place identified. Day 2 students were engaged with the Town Planning studio. The students understood the principles of Town Planning and policies and guidelines are placed to improvise or enhance the towns. As informed by the faculty of RVS the students' experience has been enriched by the visit through the design and town planning exercises. RVS has agreed to host SAA in the month of June 2022 and organise a vertical studio in their chennai campus.

Dear Prof. Col. Malik,

Some of the faculties were involved in admission duty on weekends and holidays. Please find the attached roster for your reference.

I request you to kindly forward the details to the HR Department so that Compensatory Leave can be credited to their ERP account. It has not been credited for a long time. Please do the needful.

Dear Prof. Col. Malik,

I, Md Shahroz Alam and Asso. Prof. Sehba Saleem are involved in admission duty for which we need to come to campus on every Saturday.

Please find the attached roster for your reference.

Till date I have already attended 4 days of Admission duty which is not reflecting in ERP and so I am unable to avail the same in case I need it.

I request you to kindly forward the details to HR Department so that Compensatory Leave can be credited to my ERP account.

Thanks and Kind regards

Minutes of the Meeting conducted on Monday, December 18, 2023, to review the recommendations of the committees constituted for the Career Advancement Scheme

A meeting Chaired by the Hon'ble Vice Chancellor and joined by the Registrar was conducted on Monday, December 18, 2023, to review the recommendations of the two committees constituted on October 31, 2023, to evaluate the applications received from the faculty members for promotion under the Career Advancement Scheme(CAS). After a thorough screening of the recommendation reports submitted by both the committee, the following observations were drawn:

Creative Cluster

1. In the case of Dr. Sachin Dutt from the School of Design (SOD), although the essential qualification mentioned in the committee report was M.Design, still his case was recommended for promotion to Associate Professor without a PhD. However, It was verified from his documents that he is PhD as well as a Post-Doctoral qualification. Accordingly, his case was recommended for promotion to Associate Professor.
2. Mr. Kumud Ranjan Halder from the School of Art and Architecture possesses only a Bachelor's degree (BVA), still, his candidature was recommended for promotion to the cadre of Assoc, Professor without any Master's and Doctorate qualifications. Forwarding by Head of the Department

Dr. Neetu Jora has shown remarkable "ownership" in both academics & admissions. She has discharged her responsibilities exceedingly well, including counselling / converting candidates into admissions. She has been attached to the role of "Prof. Director - MBB" which she is handling quite well at the moment. Considering her performance, I strongly recommend her case for favourable consideration, that is;
offering the position of "Associate - Prof" at its SOB.

Dear Mam

I am an alumni of ansal university 2015 batch Mba general.

I received a mail regarding the alumni referral program, I have a candidate who wants to take admission in Ba Iib course, She has secured 70% in her 12th.

Regarding the same I wanted to know whether the referral scheme is applicable in this case as well, if yes kindly reply me asap so that I can send the candidate to the campus.

Thanks and Regards

Hi Akhil,

Yes referral scheme is applicable in this case. Please make this clear at the time of admission, as there is a hard copy form that the referee is supposed to fill.

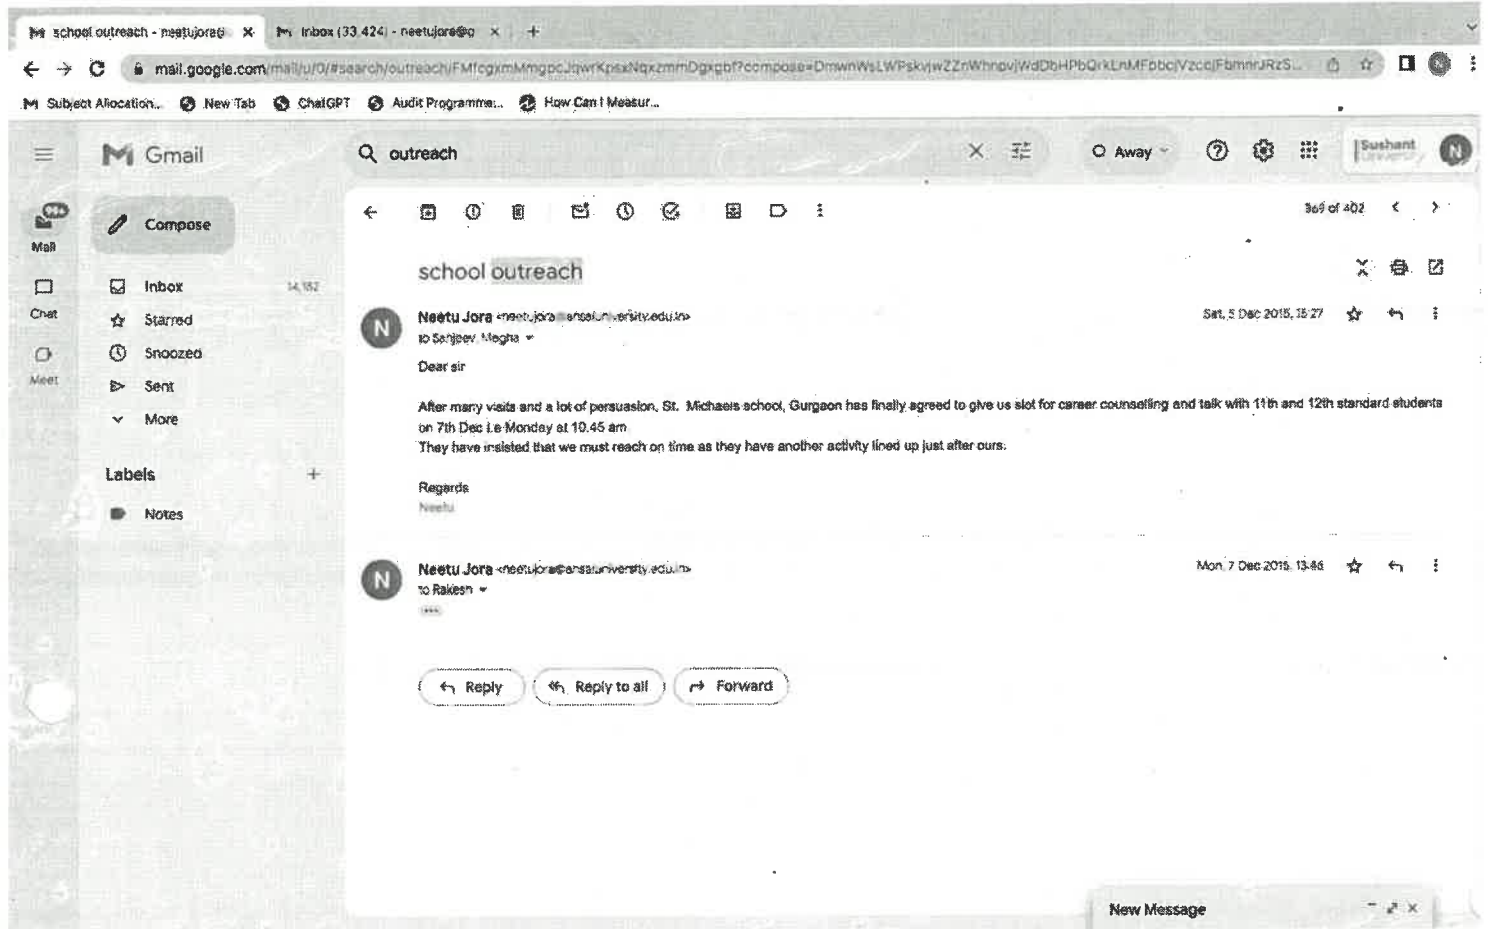

Best Wishes,

Neetu Jora

Thanks and Regards,

Neetu Jora

Dear Dr Yadav Sir,

SOB Faculty Neetu Jora has been on College Outreach during the last two days. She has firmed up an Outreach activity with DSD College Gurugram by way of a knowledge sharing session next week. Two options have been offered:

- (i) Visit by us to DSD College for taking the session, or
- (ii) Getting around 70 students to Sushant University (which would entail providing to and fro transport by us).

Further, DSD College are also open for an MoU with Sushant University which could also be looked at as considered appropriate. (Neetu Ma'am's self-explanatory message in email trail refers).

I believe this is an excellent opportunity through credible outreach effort of our SOB Faculty which we should try to leverage to our best advantage.

Kindly advise on our preferred option as well as a couple of dates convenient to you next week for this College Outreach engagement.

Best regards

J.S. Mukul

Dear all,

Please go through the subject allocation sheet, I have made certain changes. Secondly, the following changes effective immediately.

Deepika will head the Bealmasters club. Atul Agarwal will be area chair Marketing. Navdeep and Neetu will be looking into Warwick arrangements and issues. Kirti please keep helping out as Neetu is involved in admissions as well. There are more changes. Please go through the updated sheet and send me an update on what has been done in your allotted responsibilities and POA for the next 3 months. (reema, please followup so that I receive this by Wednesday EOD.

Thirdly, can area chairs, like last semester take up the responsibility of guest lectures. And also please take up industry visits. This does not mean that area chairs will organize, but please see that the sheet is populated and one guest lecture and one industry visit/mail visit/bazaar visit happens for each subject in your area for all batches. Please see that this is done in a spread out manner and not huddled into one week. Please refer back to me in case of doubt.

Abstract

The purpose of this study was to analyse and understand the attitude of gender towards cryptocurrency. The questionnaire was formed to collect data about knowledge, experience, trust, and other investment factors of the gender towards cryptocurrency. This paper will be beneficial to the upcoming or existing companies of cryptocurrency to estimate their future viability based on gender. The research was also aimed to the detection of gender differences within the areas of awareness, investing, mining and paying with the cryptocurrencies. The research aimed to analyse the data collected and conclude the overall attitude of male/ female towards cryptocurrency. The findings confirmed the existence of gender differences in attitude towards crypto currencies, as the male respondents were more willing to use the crypto currencies in most of the cases.

Introduction

In recent years, cryptocurrencies attracted a lot of attention, mainly due to enormous growths and falls of their exchange rates. A cryptocurrency (or crypto currency) is a digital asset designed to work as a medium of exchange that uses cryptography to secure its transactions, to control the creation of additional units, and to verify the transfer of assets. Digital technological innovations have transformed the process of buying and selling commodities in India. People are using these digital wallets to buy a candy as well as to transfer money from one account to other (Malik et al., 2020).

The first cryptocurrency was introduced in praxis by the person (or persons) under pseudonym Satoshi Nakamoto in 2009 when the principle of the Bitcoin was introduced in the paper titled "Bitcoin: A Peer-to-Peer Electronic Cash System". Shortly afterward, the first bitcoin software was released and launched the bitcoin network and the first units of the bitcoin cryptocurrency were created.

The basic principle of cryptocurrency is that only a certain predefined amount of cryptocurrency is collectively produced by the entire cryptocurrency system. The rate of production is set by a predefined value and is publicly known. The different types of Cryptocurrencies available are Bitcoin, Ethereum, Litecoin and and Rippon. Bitcoin is a digital currency created in 2009. Bitcoin offers the promise of lower transaction fees than traditional

Abstract

The goal of this study was to look into and understand how investors' attitudes regarding cryptocurrencies change as their income rises. The questionnaire was created to gather information on cryptocurrency investors' expertise, experience, trust, and other investing criteria. This study will be useful to forthcoming or existing bitcoin businesses in estimating their future viability based on revenue. The study also sought to identify variations in household income in the areas of cryptocurrency knowledge, investment, mining, and payment. The goal of the study was to analyze the data and come to a conclusion on male and female attitudes about bitcoin depending on their capabilities. The data revealed that there are variations in how people feel about crypto currencies.

Introduction

Cryptocurrency is the name given to a system that uses cryptography to allow the secure transfer and exchange of digital tokens in a distributed and decentralized manner. These tokens can be traded at market rates for fiat currencies. The first cryptocurrency was Bitcoin, which began trading in January 2009. Since then, many other cryptocurrencies have been created employing the same innovations that Bitcoin introduced, but changing some of the specific parameters of their governing algorithms. The two major innovations that Bitcoin introduced, and which made cryptocurrencies possible, were solutions to two long-standing problems in computer science: the double-spending problem and the Byzantine Generals Problem. A cryptocurrency (or crypto currency) is a digital asset designed to work as

ABSTRACT:

The purpose of this research is to analyze the determinants of product innovation and its impact on the financial performance of the organizations. Specifically, the study examines the impact of intelligence generation, intelligence dissemination, product-process innovation, marketing support of the product, quality, Dependability/ Delivery, Technology selection, Flexibility on the financial performance of the automobile companies. The models of product innovation provided the theoretical framework for the research. The model of product-process innovation provides the basis for further research. The first concept explains the link between organizations surroundings and its innovation targets (Utterback JM 1974, 1975), (Miller & Friesen, 1982) (Milling, 1996) whereas the second concept explains the connection between firm's performance level i.e. innovative performance, financial performance, organizational performance and marketing performance and its innovation types i.e. product innovation, process innovation, organizational innovation and marketing innovation (Abernathy & Townseed, 1975) (Abernathy & Utterback, June/July 1978) (Gunday, et al., 2011). From these concepts evolved this study i.e. to evaluate the impact of product innovation on the financial performance of the organizations.

INTRODUCTION

During modern decades increasing ecological concerns have become a well-built encouragement to creative thinking. Ecological system will exert huge weight on production industries, which will augment in the upcoming time, enabling a more surviving globe for coming generation. The automobile industry is one of several industries causing ecological pollution where cars have a important impact on all stages of the life cycle; manufacturing, use, reusing and dumping (Orsato and Wells, 2007). This business also continues to cultivate. The number of cars in worldwide use will amplify in close future, mainly due to growing command in budding countries. As an instance, the amount of cars sold in China has enlarged by over 25% per annum in the past ten years, building China the world's biggest car marketplace. In 2012, the international car fleet conceded the one billion score. As a result of the increasing car market, the automotive industry records for 27% of CO<sub>2</sub> releases in the world (WWF, 2013). Automakers have also shown an escalating awareness of the ecological impact of their products as environmental rules and market demands for ecologically less disparaging cars have augmented. The centre on reducing CO<sub>2</sub> has become a well-built driver in the growth of not only less ecologically vicious cars, such as Electric Vehicles (EV) and Hybrid Electric Vehicles (HEV), but also of mass-reduction way-outs.

TO STRESS TEST OR NOT: A QUESTION FACED BY BANKS

Ms. Neetu Jora

"You can't really know what you are made of until you are tested."

— O.R. Melling

Introduction

In today's era of liberalization and globalization, when there are extreme challenges on the shoulders of banks and financial institutions, who are to deal with more and more complex problems on a daily basis, stress testing is inevitable. Today, it makes sense that instead of doing financial projection on a "best estimate" basis, a company or its regulators may do stress testing where they look at how robust a financial institution or a financial instrument is. A stress test, is an analysis or simulation designed to determine the ability of a given financial instrument or financial institution to deal with an economic crisis.

A bank stress test in particular is a simulation based on an examination of the balance sheet of that institution or in other words it is a thorough analysis which is conducted under unfavorable economic scenarios to determine whether a bank has enough capital to withstand the impact of adverse developments.

The focus is on key risks such as credit risk, market risk, and liquidity risk. It aims to answer questions like:

- What if a borrower fails to repay a loan or otherwise meet a contractual obligation?
- What if you experience losses due to factors that affect the overall performance of the financial markets, from movements in market prices?
- What if a given security or asset cannot be traded quickly enough in the market to prevent a loss or make the required profit?

Stress tests can either be carried out

- internally by banks as part of their own risk management, or
- by supervisory authorities as part of their regulatory oversight of the banking sector.

The results of stress tests depend on the assumptions made in various economic scenarios, which are described by the International Monetary Fund as "unlikely but plausible."

USE

Large international banks began using internal stress tests in the early 1990s. Tests attracted a great deal of attention in 2009, as the worst global financial crisis since the Great Depression left many banks and financial institutions severely under-capitalized. In 1996, the Basel Capital Accord was amended to require banks and investment firms to conduct stress tests to determine their ability to respond to market events. However, up until 2007, stress tests were typically performed only by the banks themselves, for internal self-assessment. Beginning in 2007, governmental regulatory bodies became interested in conducting their own stress tests to insure the effective operation of financial institutions.

Since then, stress tests have been routinely performed by financial regulators in different countries or regions, to insure that the banks under their authority are engaging in practices likely to avoid negative outcomes. In India, legislation was enacted in 2007 requiring banks to undergo regular stress tests.

In October 2012, U.S. regulators unveiled new rules expanding this practice by requiring the largest American banks to undergo stress tests twice per year, once internally and once conducted by the regulators. Starting in 2014 mid-sized firms (i.e., those with $10-50 billion in assets) are also being required to conduct Dodd-Frank Act Stress Testing.

Abstract: The study deals with preference and perception of investors/customers towards mutual fund. Its main objective is to study the factors responsible for the preference for mutual funds as an investment option. The study also examines the investment objectives undertaken by investors while investing in Financial Instruments and finds out the highly used/preferred source of information for various investments options to invest in their most preferred Financial Instrument. Descriptive statistics namely rank order, frequency tables, cross tabs, bar charts and factor analysis are used for the purpose of data analysis. It is found that "Benefits & Transparency" is the major factor that is responsible for the customer perception for mutual funds. It is also observed from the study that most of the investors studied under present study are moderate risk taker and are interested in Balanced Fund, through which they can earn higher returns at low risk. People in India still think with the perspective of savings rather than taking risk and investing in high ended equity markets. Even investors who invest in mutual funds are unclear about how they function and how to manage them. So, proper information must be provided to the investors in order to increase the loyalty among the investors towards Mutual Funds.

Key words: financial, customer, perception, mutual, funds, markets, equity, investment.

Introduction

A mutual fund is an investment vehicle that pools in the money of several investors and collectively invests this amount either the equity market or the debt market or both depending upon the fund's objective. This means you can access either the equity or the debt Market or both, without investing directly in equity or debt. According to securities and exchange board of India (SEBI) regulations [1,2,3] "Mutual fund means a fund established in the form of a trust by a sponsor to raise money by the trustee through sale of units to the public under one or more schemes for investing of Securities in accordance with the regulations. Thus mutual fund collects money from the investors, issues certificate to achieve mutual benefits in term of capital appreciation in such Securities." Mutual Fund as an investment option gives a platform to risk averse investors who do not prefer to take high risk on their hard earned money.

ABSTRACT

The outbreak situation of the COVID-2019 pandemic is an Unpredictable shock to the world economy. World Economy faces the slowdown of share market prices, especially the value of mutual fund value decreases. Companies and Businessmen primarily invested in the mutual funds to play a safer role, modify their risk into the return, and increase the Net Assets Value (NAV). This study attempts to describe the state of mutual funds in India during this COVID 2019 period. Thus the performance of mutual funds when compared with before and during COVID 2019, the proposed model specifies on testing the performance of mutual funds both in the public and private sectors and attains to access the impact of COVID 2019 on mutual funds. The author has used correlation for finding out the relation of COVID 2019 and Mutual Funds. This paper mainly addresses the causes of investors during economic fluctuation and the return of top mutual companies by comparing the return of 1 year and during these last three months. COVID 2019 is not only on particular sectors; it affects almost every sector like construction, manufacturing, business, agriculture. While all the sectors are affected by COVID 2019 pandemics, it hits the society and the economy; once the economy comes down, the inflation rate increase, the Forex rate will increase, and it affects our whole country. In this paper, the author included sectors that are affected and their performance now and how well the different types of funds are performing, which will be helpful for the reader to analyze the affected areas. The paper concluded with the help of a survey and statistical tools whether the investors can make a further payment and hold for some period or continue with the investment whatever situation crisis impacts our economy.

INTRODUCTION

Mutual fund industry has experienced a drastic growth within the past twenty years. Increase within the number of schemes with increased mobilization of funds in the past few years provide benefits to the importance of the Indian mutual funds industry. Mutual funds have a number of schemes within it, such as large cap, Mid cap and Small cap funds, which makes it hard for the investors to choose the best scheme out of so many available options. This Study specifically focused on the performance analysis of mutual fund schemes based on the Large cap, Mid cap and Small cap, which helps investors to take decision based on risk and returns in current time. These mutual funds individually using different tools such as Annual returns, Standard Deviation,

Beta, Sharpe's Ratio, Treynor's Ratio, Jensen's Alpha Ratio.[1,2]

Mutual Fund companies are financial intermediaries providing financial services to small investors through mobilization of funds, when the investors invest in a mutual fund; they are buying shares or units of the mutual fund and become a shareholder of the fund. Mutual funds are one of the best investments ever created because they are very cost efficient and very easy to invest in. Thus, the Rupee is generated in the form of big returns to promote financial excellence. In this research paper an attempt is made on a comparative performance analysis of the growth-oriented equity diversified schemes for 5 months prior to outbreak of Covid-19 and 5 months

Abstract

This study is aimed to study, analyse and understand the attitude of millennial's towards cryptocurrency. The questionnaire was formed to collect data. This paper will be beneficial to the upcoming or existing companies of cryptocurrency to estimate their future viability based on age factor. The research was also aimed to understand the millenials attitude towards various cryptocurrencies and also to know the reasons behind. The research aimed to analyse the data collected and conclude the overall attitude of millenials towards cryptocurrency. The findings confirmed the existence of differences in attitude towards crypto currencies based on age factor.

Introduction

Cryptocurrency is a decentralized digital currency transferred between peers and confirmed in a public ledger via a process known as mining. The cryptocurrency market has evolved erratically and at unprecedented speed over the course of its short lifespan. Since the release of the pioneer anarchic cryptocurrency, Bitcoin, to the public in January 2009.

Technology behind cryptocurrency

A blockchain, originally block chain, is a continuously growing list of records, called blocks, which are linked and secured using cryptography. Each block typically contains a cryptographic hash of the previous block, a timestamp and transaction data. By design, a blockchain is inherently resistant to modification of the data. It is "an open, distributed ledger that can record transactions between two parties efficiently and in a verifiable and permanent way". For use as a distributed ledger, a blockchain is typically managed by a peer-to-peer network collectively adhering to a protocol for validating new blocks. Once recorded, the data in any given block cannot be altered retroactively without the alteration of all subsequent blocks, which requires collusion of the network majority.

Abstract:-

Today many organizations have realized that diversity can be an asset which can enhance organizational effectiveness. Whether it is a workforce diversity or workplace diversity, diversity has become one of the modern weapons for solving different problems due to the emergence of diverse set of creative and brilliant ideas. But this diversity act as a competitive edge only if the project leader or the manager make an effort to understand the forces that can affect a diverse team. The three major forces that affects the diverse team are perception, values and expectations. For any team to operate successfully, its members must feel they are respected and supported by other members. A leader can set certain guidelines that will help team meet organizational objectives while at the same time valuing diversity within each team. Effective communication in a diverse team is a challenging job for any leader, so the paper highlights certain tips for communicating in a diverse team. In order to work effectively in a diverse team and to be a great player one must understand the viewpoints of others. The best starting point is a self assessment. By understanding the value of team diversity, examining one's own awareness and beliefs about diversity and identifying common interest with team members who are different from you, a leader will be better able to work with his group towards a common goal.

Introduction:-

Today, when the world has really become small in terms of ideology, cultural differences communication network people especially in the corporate world are feeling the need for better understanding of diversity and its impact on the organization. Organisation have started realizing that the issue of diversity is not an hindrance but an asset which can enhance organizational effectiveness. Whether it is workplace diversity or team diversity, diversity has become one of the weapons for solving different problems due to the emergence of diverse set of creative and brilliant ideas. The term workplace diversity relates mainly to issues of gender, race, age, language, religion, sexual orientation, ethnicity. Whereas the term team diversity in addition to the above also includes factors such as education, job functions, socioeconomic background, personality profile and geographic location. Team diversity may create difficulties in performance initially. However once the interpersonal differences among the members are worked out, the varied background, talent and experience can result into synergy. Although it may take considerable effort and time to obtain teamwork from diversity, long term benefits in creativity and performance makes it all worthwhile.

Three forces that effects diversified teams:-

As a team leader or a member of a team one should have an understanding of the forces that can effect the working of the diverse team. A diversified team No doubts, bring a pool of ideas and materials that the team works with, however we can identify 3 major forces effecting the diversity are

Emite is a Dutch multinational corporation, founded in 1891 in Eindhoven and it has headquartered in Amsterdam. In 2010, sales of €25 billion were generated in more than 100 countries through its 120,000 employees organised in its main business sectors: lighting, consumer lifestyle and health care. In response to major global environmental and social trends like weather change, the higher level of upper middle class in developing areas, increasing consumer strength and demand for sustainable lifestyles and old populations, Emite changed its strategic positioning to 'Health and Care' in 2007, and in 2010 sustainability became an integral and important part of the Emite Management Agenda. The company has a long-term promise to sustainability both in its social and environmental domain. On the social side already in the past period, when this was not everyday Emite employees benefited from inhouse facilities. On the environmental side, in the early 1970s, Emite participated in the Club of Rome's 'The Limits to Growth' seminar. This resulted in the establishment of the first corporate environmental function in starting of 1974. ### Abstract

An automatic online operation that helps to transfer money between two entities is known as cashless transaction. Digital transactions are also known as cashless transactions as no paper formalities are required to complete a transaction. E-commerce, signing online contracts for business, buying online tickets for movies through smartphones comes under digital transactions. Transacting digitally has become easy, convenient and quick for people. Benefits of these cashless transactions are still ignored by many people because they still are not able to use these digital devices properly, or they are happy using cash for transactions. 200 consumers were surveyed using questionnaire.

Introduction

Cashless economy is the economy which is not based on any form of physical money like notes and coins. In this kind of economy transactions are done on electronic channels like debit, credit cards, electronic clearances and system of payments in India like NEFT, RTGS, IMPS. In these kind of economy cash flow does not exist. Indian economy is now also pushing people to go for online cashless transactions and have launched UPI i.e. Unified Payment Interface. Various modes of cashless payments are mobile wallets, plastic money, net banking, etc. mobile phones now have virtual wallets known as mobile wallets. To make payments through online offline modes cash can be stored in mobiles. On mobile apps can be downloaded through which these wallets which are offered by service providers can be accessed. Net banking, debit, credit cards are used so that money can be transferred in the online wallets. Under plastic money comes cards like debit card, credit and prepaid. Banks later issue them physically or virtually. Net banking is used to recharge them and then to make purchase online they are used. Prepaid cards can be used to give someone as gift also so that they can make purchase of their own wish. Primary purpose of using these cards is money withdrawals from ATMs. Online payments and when shopping is done at merchant outlets these cards can be swiped for purchasing. Net banking is a type where

Empowering Women in Politics: A Crucial Step Towards Gender Equality and Genuine Democracy

Abstract

Women's political empowerment is a critical component of gender equality and genuine democracy. Despite significant progress in recent years, women remain vastly underrepresented in political decision-making positions, holding only a small fraction of elected offices and leadership roles. This lack of representation has far-reaching consequences, including the marginalization of women's voices, perspectives, and priorities in policy-making. This chapter argues that increasing women's political participation is essential to strengthen attention to women's issues, promote political accountability, and ensure gender-sensitive governance. We explore the benefits of women's political empowerment, the challenges that must be overcome, and strategies for achieving greater gender parity in political representation. By empowering women politically, we can create a more just, equitable, and democratic society for all.

We explore the benefits of women's political empowerment, challenges to achieving it, and strategies for overcoming these
